DEDICATION

Mr. Roger Blanchard

Throughout the million or so years that he has worked at Burlington High School, this man has established himself as one of the school's strongest supporters of both its academic and extra-curricular activities. His office is always open to students, and he takes the time and effort to listen to all sides of an issue. Although he is responsible for being the "tough guy," he has made himself well liked and respected because of his innate sense of fairness and devotion to "his" school. To show our appreciation for all that he has contributed to B.H.S. over twenty years, the Class of 1986 dedicates this Oread to Mr. Roger Blanchard — one of the unforgettable faces of '86.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION Mrs. Bea Carroll

Every senior knows this woman perhaps not by her name but definitely by what she does. Without her efforts, the whole process of post high school life would become much more difficult than it already is. The Secretary to the Director of Guidance is responsible for everything from student enrollment and registration data to gathering and sending off on time innumerable college application transcripts and recommendations to preparing diploma and graduation materials for all of us. The Class of 1986 would like to especially recognize Mrs. Bea Carroll for all of the hard work that she has done for us. She is truly one of the important and unsung faces of '86.

In Memoriam

Karen Katon

September 10, 1968 — October 28, 1983

Karen Katon was quiet in school but active in her outside activities. She enjoyed going downtown and playing outside with her sister. Although she was in a close group of friends, she got along with others well. Karen's tragic death in a fire was a tremendous loss to all who knew her. She will always be remembered by members of the Class of 1986 for her friendly smile and quiet personality.

Ronald V. Dow, Jr.

May 28, 1967 — July 29, 1985

Ronnie Dow, characterized by a former teacher as a "delightful, versatile young man", passed away during the summer of 1985. He was very involved in Boy Scouts and he enjoyed NJROTC at Burlington High School. He planned to continue his interest in the military. Despite his illnesses he took each day and made the best of it. Ronnie will be remembered as a pleasant and outgoing person. Ronnie's enthusiasm for life can serve as an inspiration to us all.

Faces '86

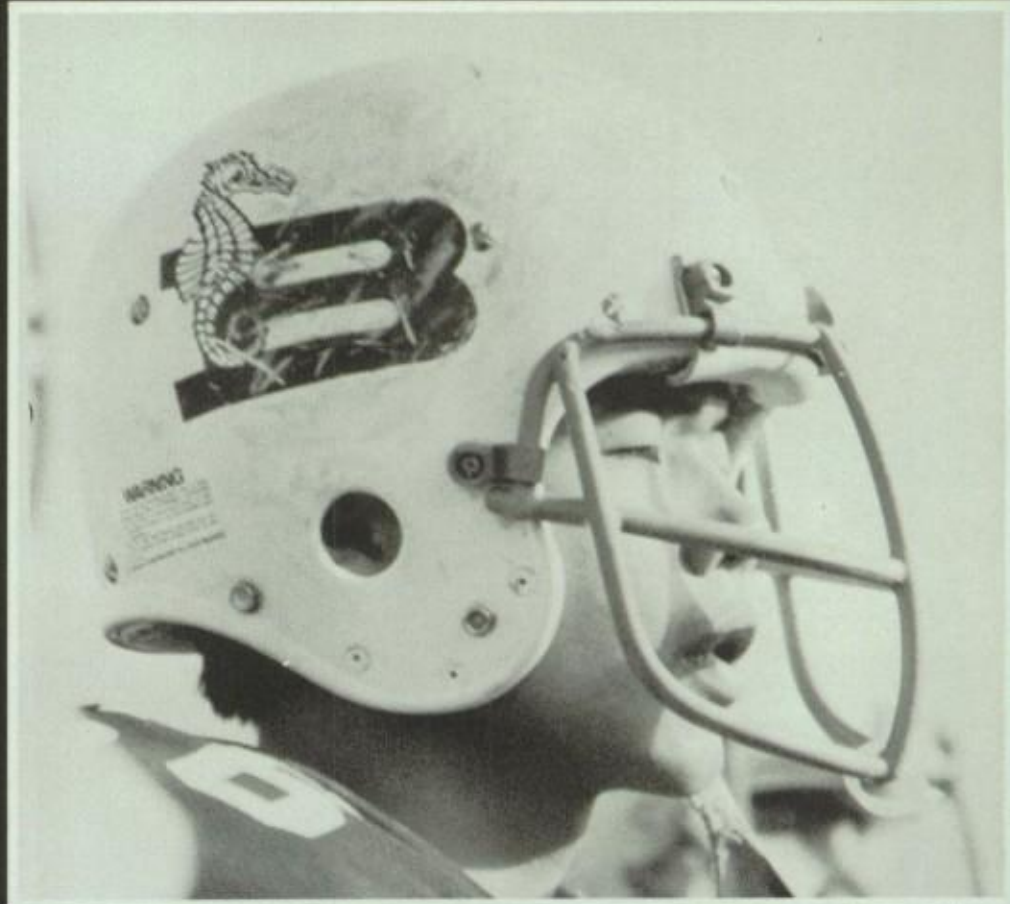

*Well we all have a face
That we hide away forever*

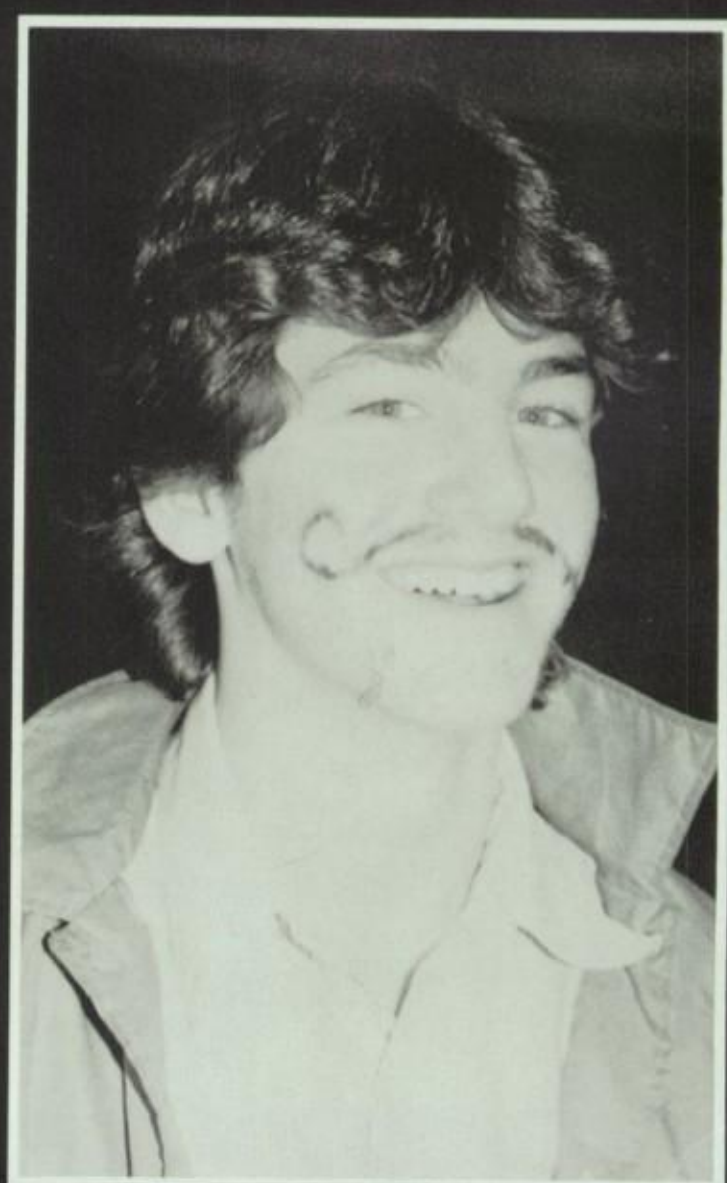

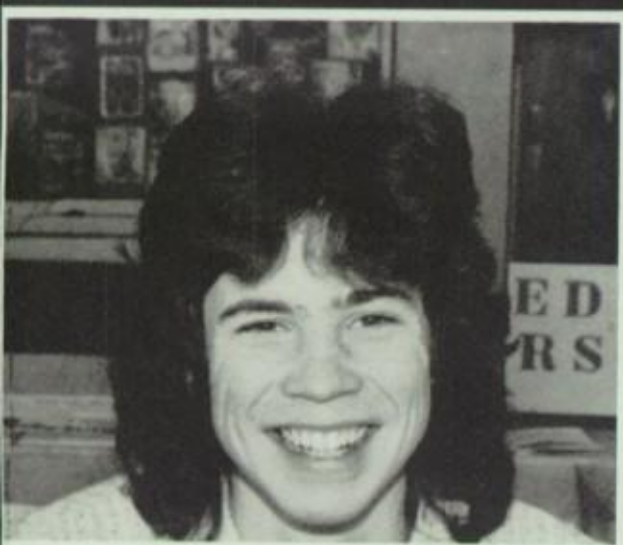

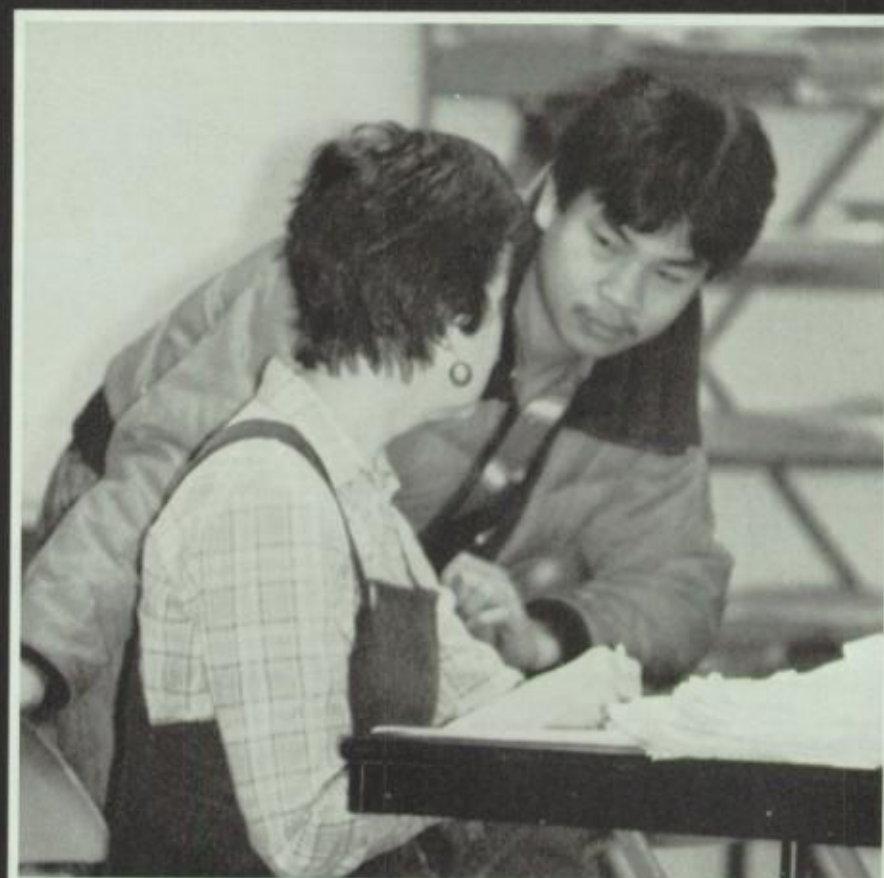

*And we take them out and show ourselves
When everyone has gone*

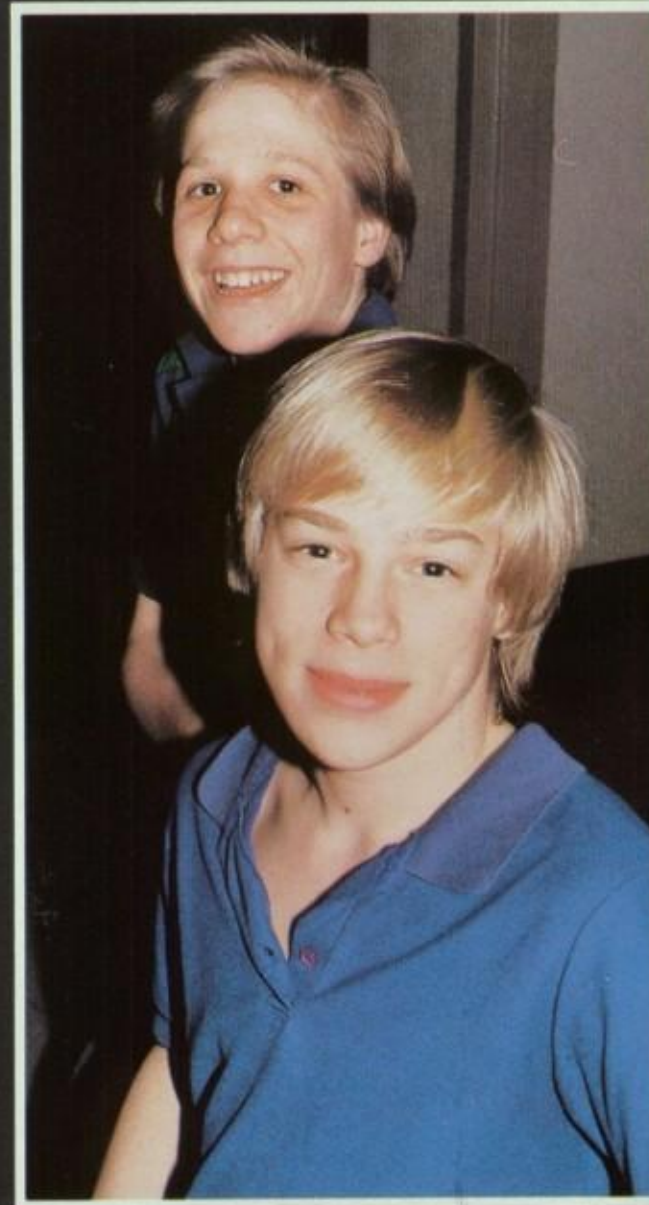

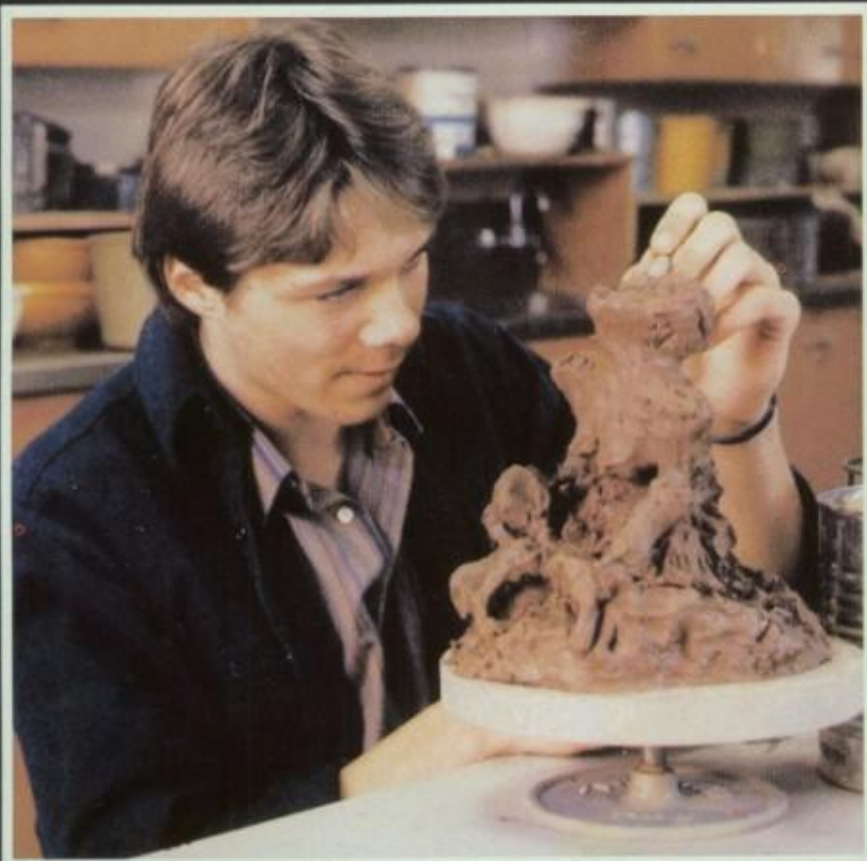

Faces '86

Some are satin some are steel

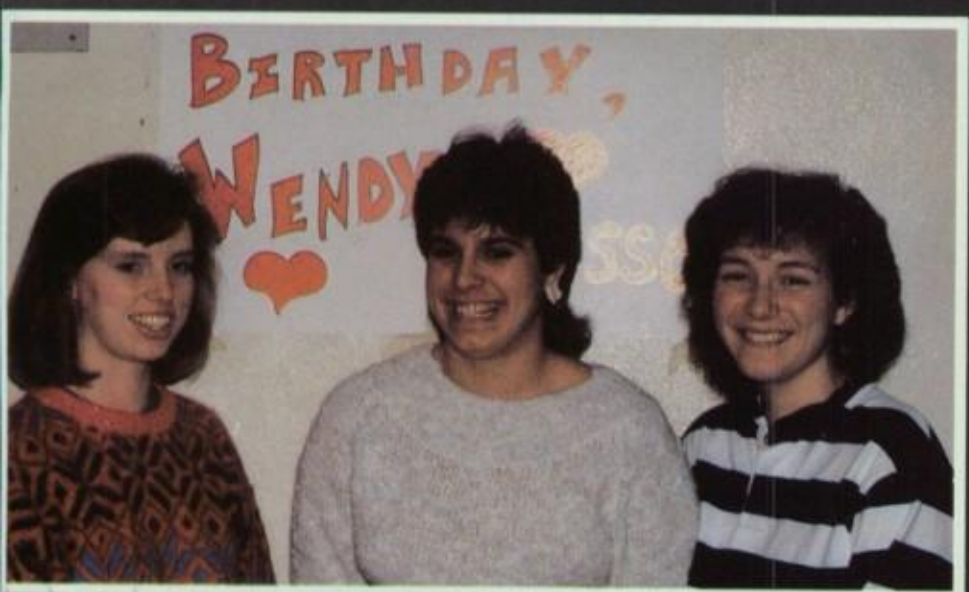

Some are silk and some are leather

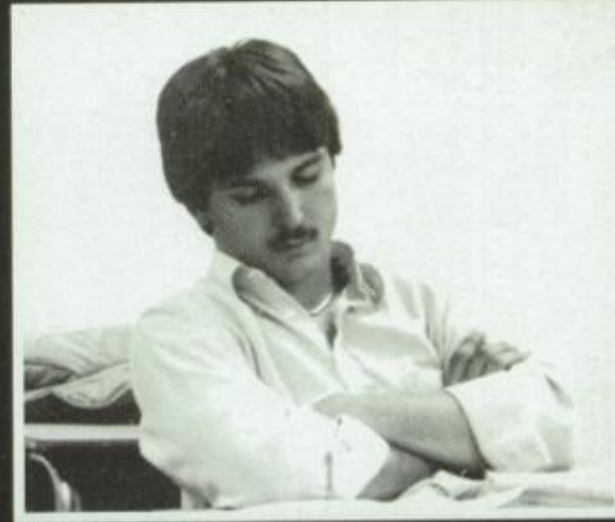

*They're the faces of the stranger
But we love to try them on*

Faces '86

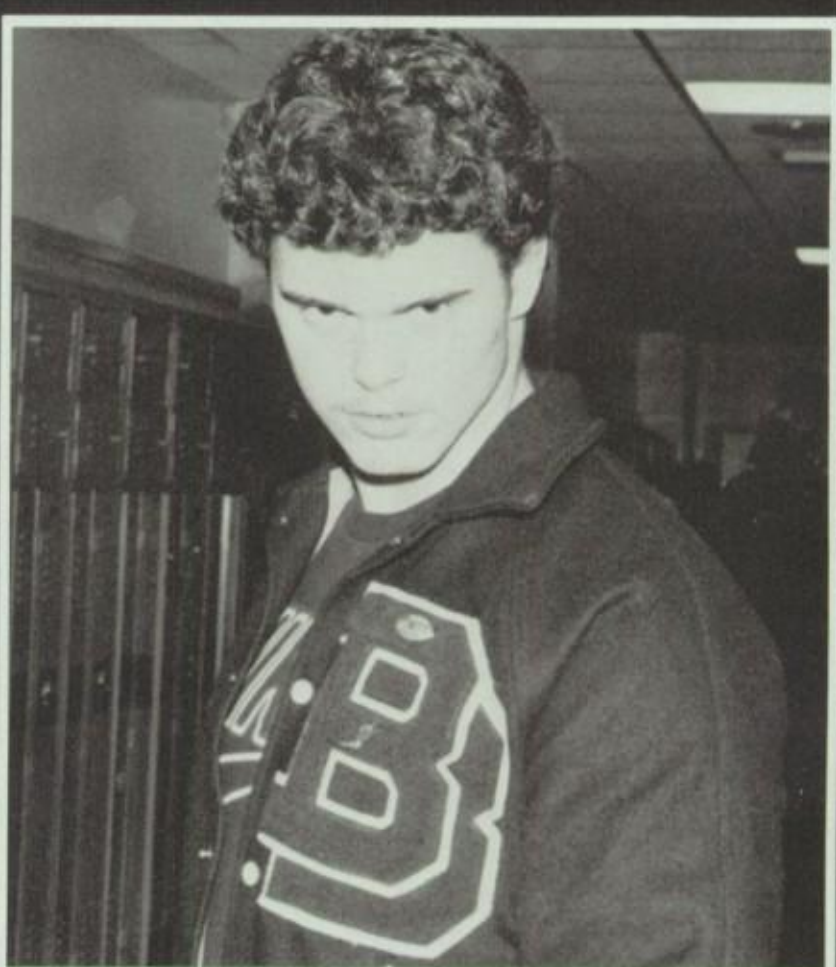

*Well we all fall in love
But we disregard the danger*

Faces '86

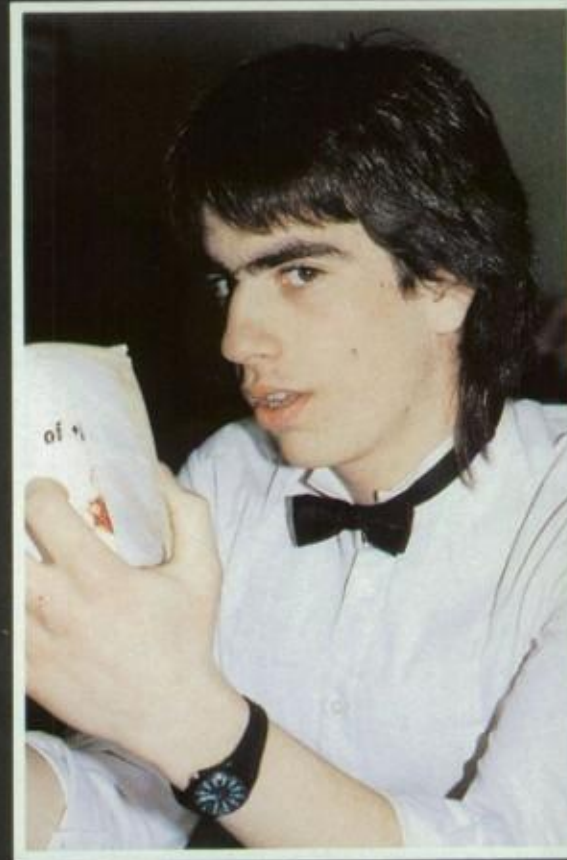

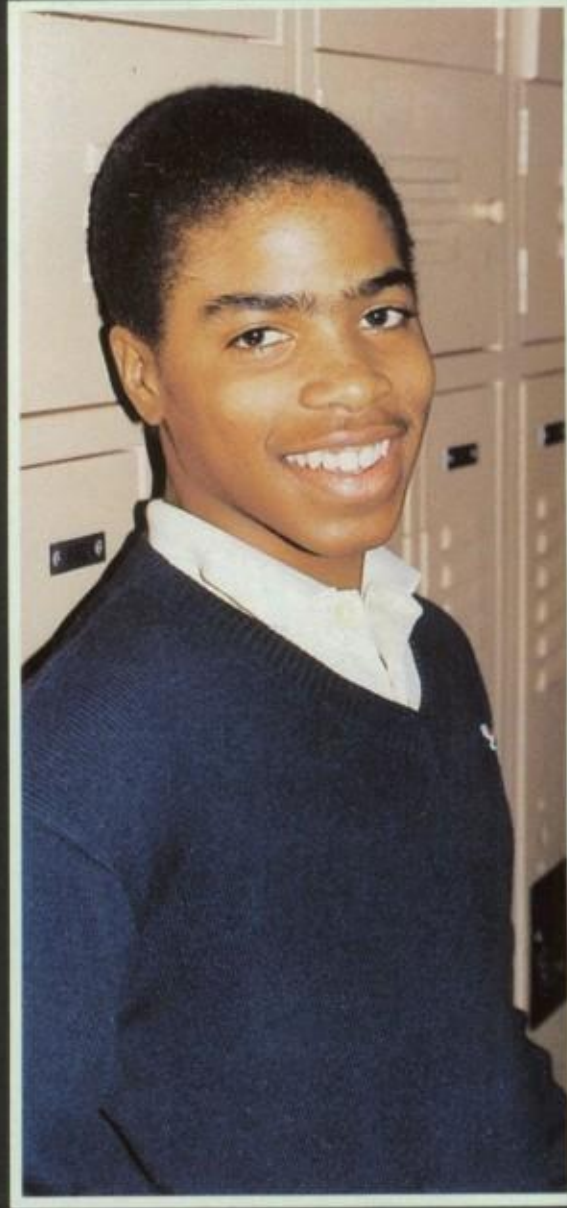

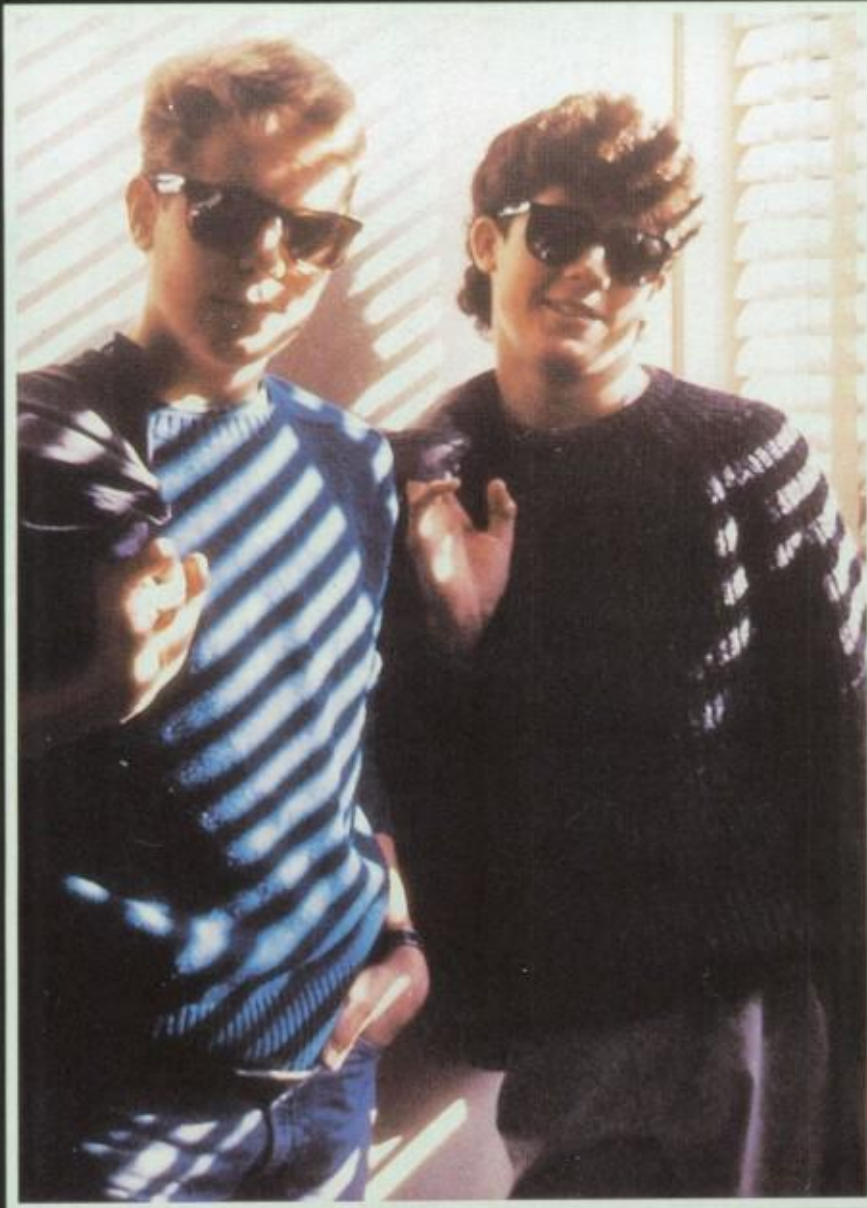

*Though we share so many secrets
There are some we never tell*

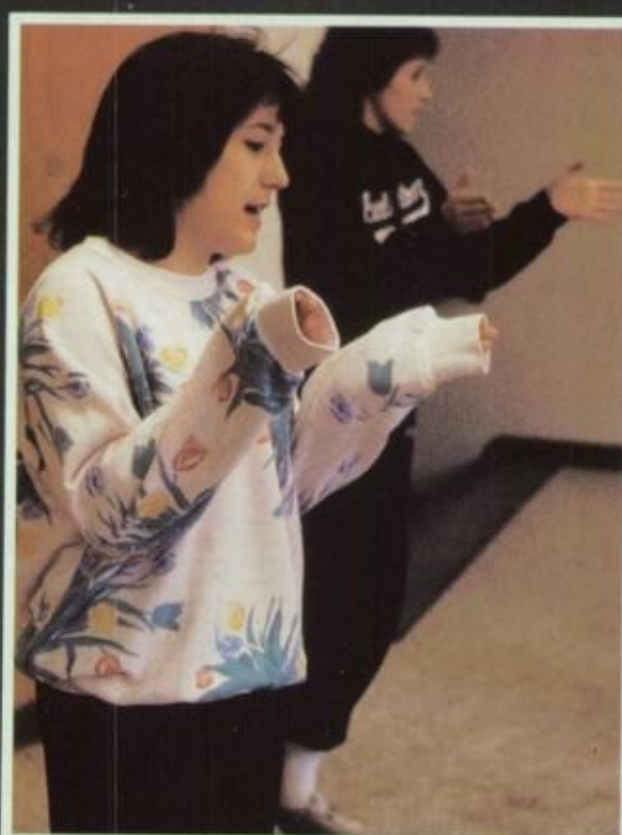

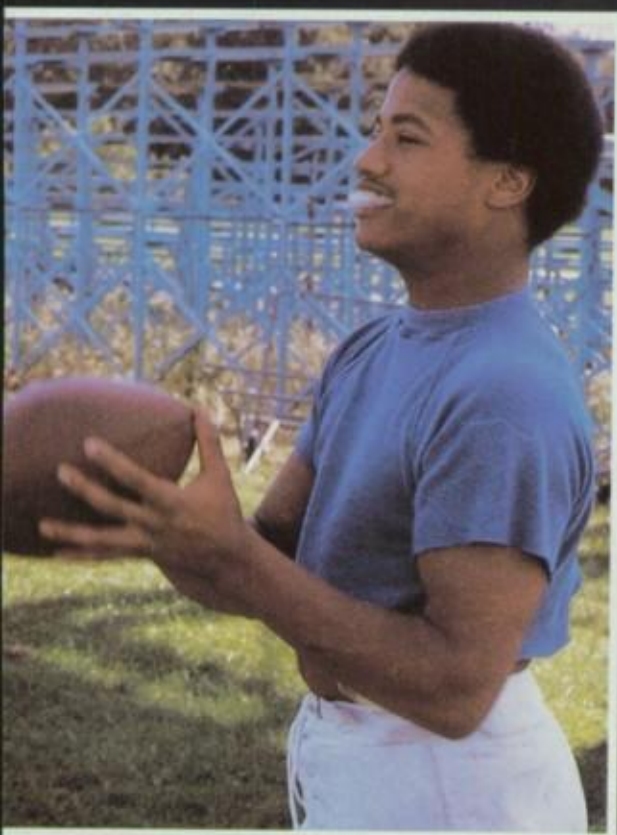

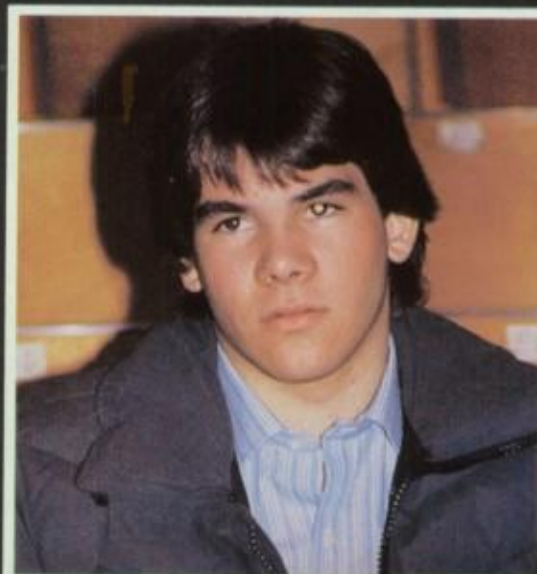

*Why were you so surprised
That you never saw the stranger*

Faces '86

Did you ever let your friend see

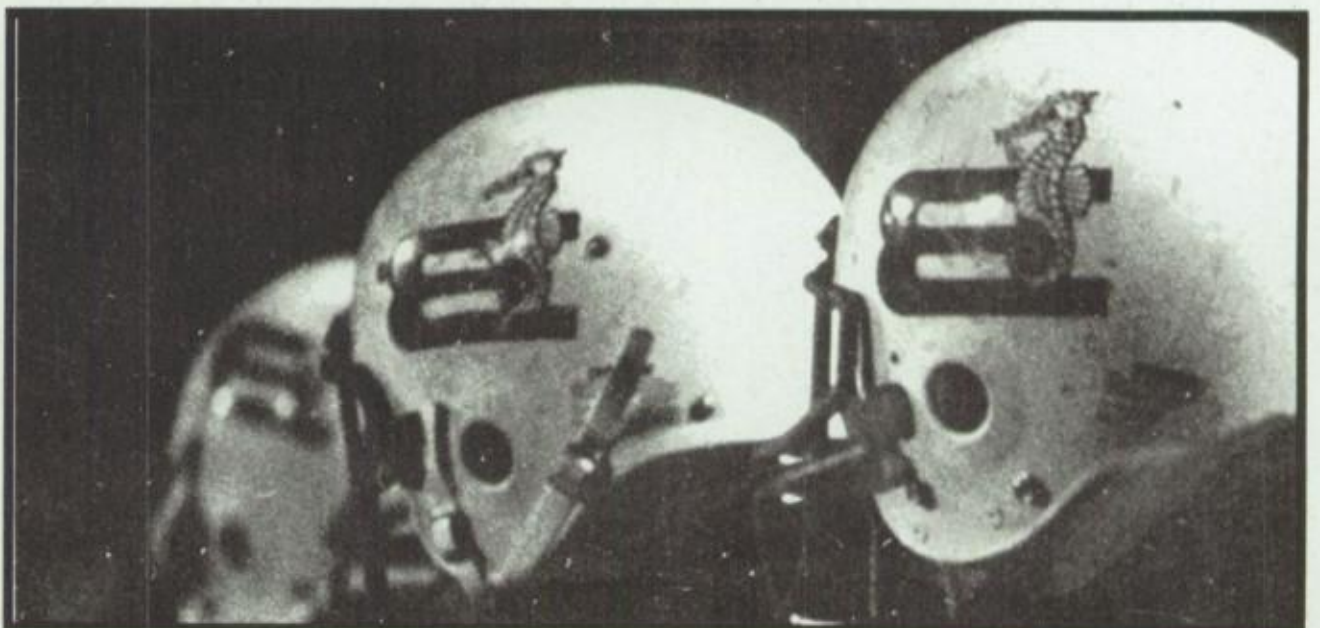

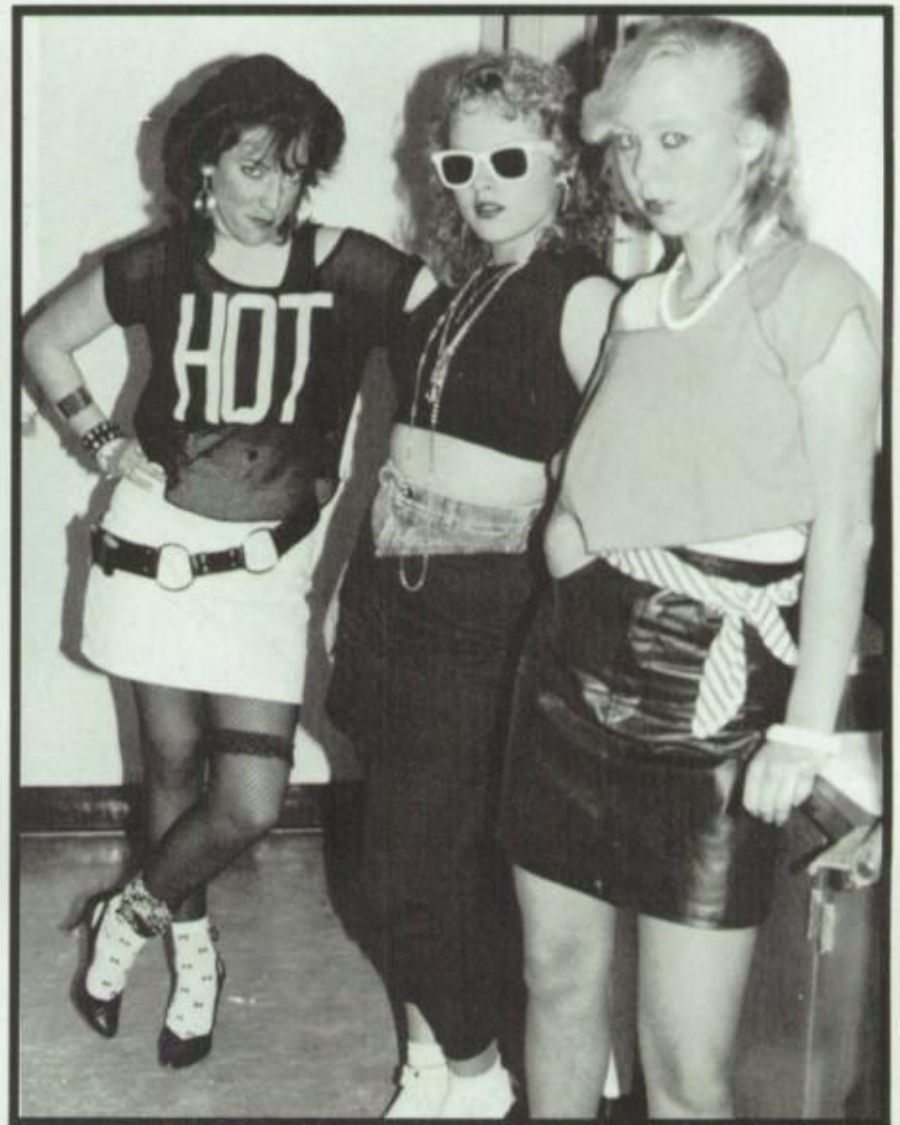

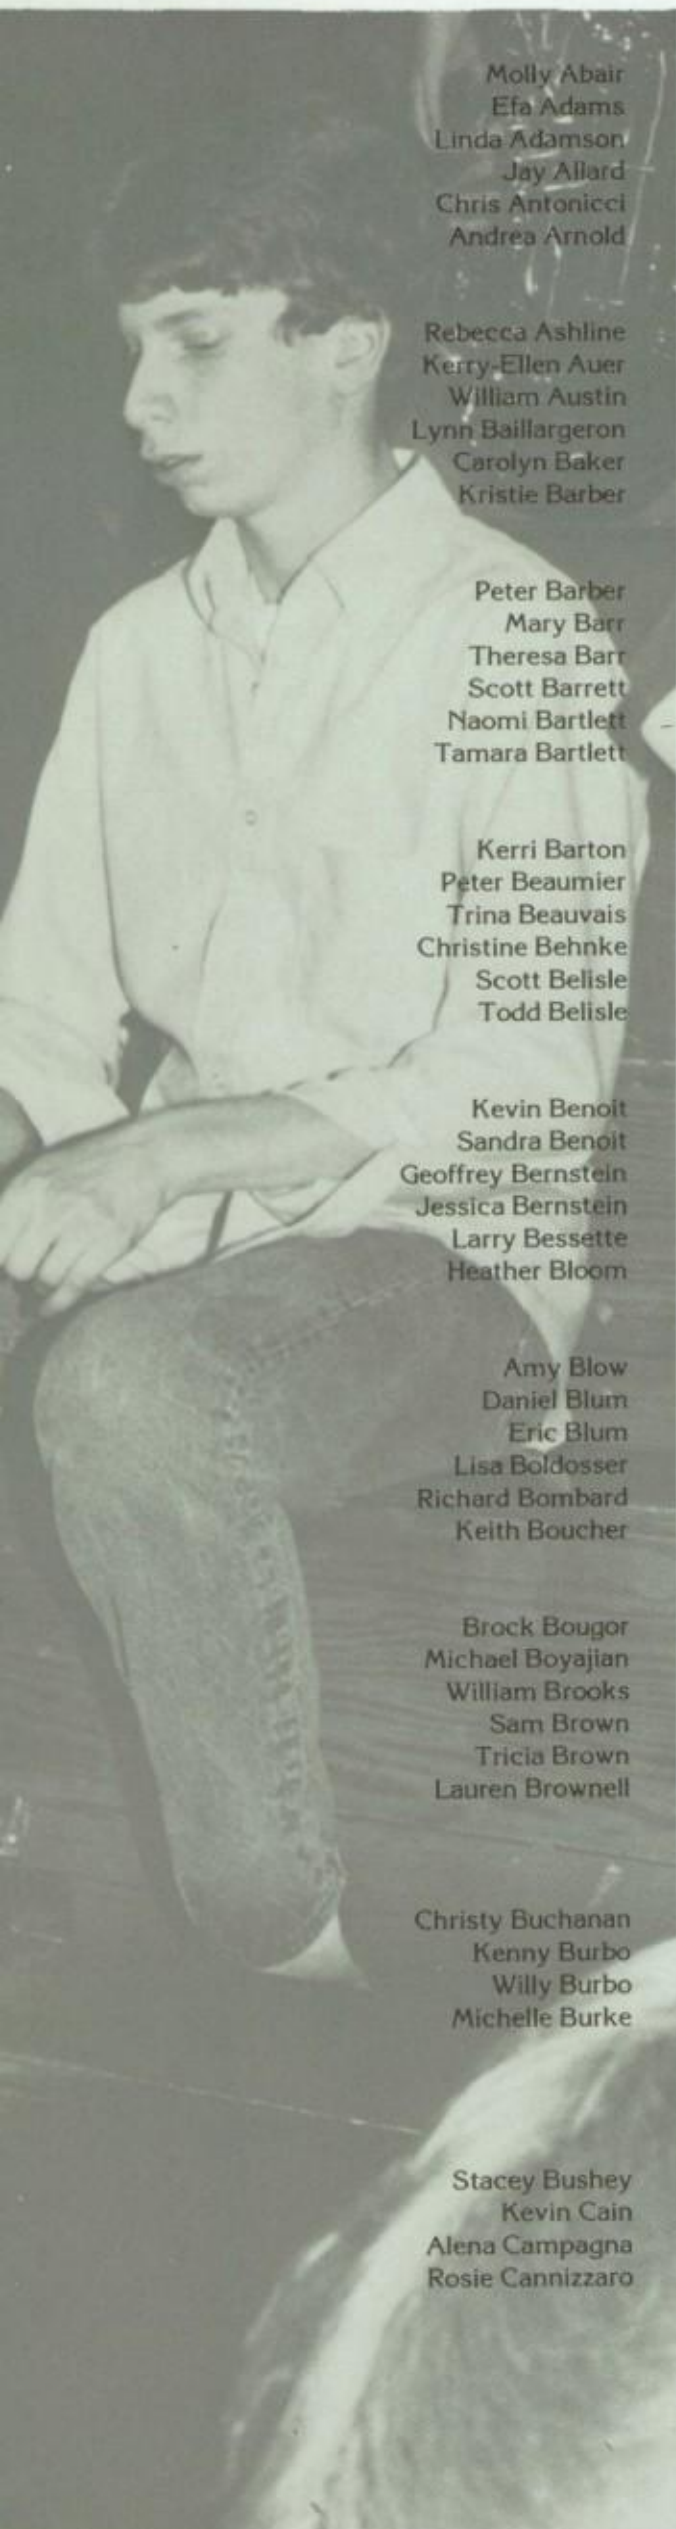

The stranger in yourself?

BHS Leads At Boys' State

"No comment." Adam Ciongoli, Governor 1985 Boys' State

The American Legion Boys' State, held in the summer of 1985, was attended by students from all over Vermont. B.H.S. was represented by Andy Bean, Pat Brown, Adam Ciongoli, Chris Dowhan, Jamie O'Halloran, Rich Rainer, and Scott Smith.

Nothing was more pleasing than finishing our exams and then going to Norwich University for an educational week of politics in a military-oriented environment. Various political factions quickly surfaced, including a small, radical third party. We soon learned many things about the state and local governments in Vermont.

B.H.S. played an important role at Boys' State. Adam Ciongoli was elected governor as an independent candidate and survived three impeachment attempts; James O'Halloran served as Secretary of State (and won five other offices) due to his brilliant speech writing, his press conferences, and his media campaigns; Chris Dowhan's tennis game improved tenfold; Scott Smith made numerous friends among faculty and counselors; Rich Rainer shot 273 for 275; Pat Brown found three female mouseketeers; and Andy Bean successfully balanced the federal budget.

In such an environment, it is difficult to pinpoint the most rewarding part of the week; Mark Garbolotti's rousing "Mountain Man" speech, the long awaited Boys' State-Girls' Dance, the never ending saga of Lars Hedbor, and the live satellite question and answer broadcast with the Honorable President Reagan were all moments we will never forget. Boys' State was truly an unforgettable experience.

BHS Girls Elected at Girls' State

"... but I'm not the daughter of Senator Robert Stafford!"

Jen Spafford, Lt. Governor 1985 Girls' State

Despite a cold, rainy, disorganized start, the 1985 Girls' State session was an enjoyable as well as entertaining experience for the six BHS girls delegates who attended. Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, Girls' State is a week-long study of our state government held on the campus of Vermont College in Montpelier. The delegates, Erica Perl, Katie Stephany, Rebecca Porter, Amy Halverson, and Eve Niquette were a bit disturbed by the formality and patriotism that was an intrinsic part of Girls' State. As the week progressed, however, we were able to overlook the negative aspects and realize the value of the program. Eve Niquette put up a strong fight for Secretary of State, and Erica Perl was victorious as the Federalist party chairwoman. Jen Spafford became Lt. Governor and a representative to Girls' Nation, and Amy Halverson was proud to be Treasurer — a job that entailed gathering the money for our famous pizza party!

For three days following these campaigns, we found ourselves immersed in debatable issues within the chambers of our States capitol. We will never forget the friendships that developed, our white gloves and straight lines, capture the flag, the guy in the blue Cadillac and the pizza party! At the close of the week the tears Mrs. Potts promised would fall did, and every one of us could admit that our week was an important, educational experience that would give us many memories for years to come.

Junior Girls Win . . . Unbelievable

"The women show the girls how it's done." Ria Dilloway

It was a dark and cold Monday night in November when the two well-disciplined squads finally met. After weeks of practice in street lighted parking lots, they were both prepared for the evening's duel. A good omen from the start for the seniors was winning the coin toss. The seniors promptly marched 65 yards in four plays to score. Under the offensive leadership of Wendy Brisson (#22 Doug Flutie) and the opportunistic defense, the class of '86 proceeded to dominate the first half. During the half-time show, the senior cheerleaders put on a stunning performance that actually included three successful pyramids.

The second half opened with successful junior drive to tie the game at 6-6. Not to be outdone, the seniors charged back with another touchdown drive capped by a brilliantly executed scoring play — a 50 yard dash to the goal line by Amy Halver-son on the reverse. As the clock wound down in the third quarter, our most honorable ref, Mr. Donoghue, discovered it was actually the fourth quarter. The seniors lost the chance to wrap up the game when a touchdown streak by Ria Dilloway (#44) was blown dead. The game ended with a questionable penalty against the rejoicing senior cheerleaders.

Varsity Athletes Work Together

"The jocks of BHS unite!" Maria Lee, President

Many times referred to as the "jocks" but also more pleasantly called "athletes," these sports-minded students formed a group called the Varsity Club under the guidance of Mr. Cardell, Athletic Director, and Mr. Blanchard. The main purpose of the group is to help run athletic events and recognize outstanding athletes in the school. The group has one or two representatives from each sport, depending on the number of people in each particular sport. These people are chosen by the coach and the team. The club also has an executive committee which this year comprised of Maria Lee, president, Carl Tetzlaff, vice-president, Rebecca Porter, secretary, and Carolyn McLaurin, treasurer. This year Rich Rainer volunteered to be correspondence secretary!

One accomplishment of the group was to elect an athlete of the week, a student who had an outstanding performance in his or her sport that week. The club also helped to spread the word about the crucial tax vote, answered phones for Vermont Public Radio's fund drive, ran an intramural floor hockey tournament, began working on a "wall of records" for A lobby, and assisted at many sporting events throughout the year. At the end of the year, the group had a banquet to honor all the athletes who made the all-star teams. The club made a good effort with their activities this year. Good luck to all next year's athletes.

BHS Girls Make It

A new attitude boosts spirits and

Last year was the beginning of a new attitude for the girls' soccer team; the result was that we eventually made it to the quarterfinals. This year our overall record was 8-7, which enabled us to make it to the semifinals. We lost to Missisquoi, however, when they made the winning goal in the remaining two minutes of the game, making the score 2-1. Coach Fran Demaci was very proud of "his girls" for their outstanding performances.

The graduating seniors were captains Christiann Gibeau (right halfback), Rebecca Porter (center fullback), and center forward Katie Stephanie. Shawntel Couture, a junior, was also one of the tri-captains.

Besides making it into the semifinals, we proved our ability in the first annual Girls Indoor Soccer Tournament hosted by B.H.S. We went undefeated in five games taking first place with our final win over Colchester (1-0).

Most importantly, in addition to the hard work, we had fun, and that's what was most important. Keep up the good spirits!

Boys' Soccer Has Weak

For third year BHS begins with a

The BHS boys' soccer team began the season with high hopes and a losing record. After six games, we were 1-4-1. Our spirits weren't dampened, however, and with the enthusiasm of madman goalie Bill Goulet and the self-sacrificing Kirk Brown, we began our "comeback." What we lacked in skills, we made up for in intensity; no one said you have to look good to win. Jon Flanagan really began to produce for us, scoring a hat-trick in our game against Middlebury. Carl Tetzlaff, recovering from an ankle injury, joined with Brian Donaldson and Chris O'Brien to form a powerful defense. All the while, Coach Dave Bahrenburg stressed to us the importance of the "##*@! Basics." It all seemed to boil down to our final two games, one of which we needed to make the playoffs. Even though we scored twice against Missisquoi in the first five minutes, we lost in overtime. Our intensity was gone; South Burlington finished our season with a 2-0 win.

Regardless of our record, the season was an enjoyable one. Good luck to the graduating seniors: Carl, "Gullet", Khanh, Peter, "Maddog", Kirk, "Duck", and Dan.

Girls Take Districts

"Captain-quad" sets the pace for

Paced by this year's "Captain Quad", consisting of seniors Katya Cooke, Amy Halverson, Maria Lee and Eve Niquette, the girls' cross-country team completed another successful season. Going into the season well prepared, we maintained a virtually undefeated record. Surviving under the "dictatorship" of our new coach Vickie Johnson, we won the Essex Invitational for the fifth consecutive year, placing all five runners in the top fifteen. The following week we continued our winning streak and re-captured the Burlington Invitational. Consistent with "our" four year domination of the Northern district, we once again took the NVAC District title. Peaking at the state race, junior Katie Hill led our pack to a third place finish at the state meet, a few points behind the state champs. Qualifying for the New England meet, we headed for Rhode Island to represent Vermont. Finishing sixth, out of a field of approximately twenty teams, we ended the season successfully.

For the first time in many years we had a complete JV squad led by Sophomore Bailee Star and Freshman Erin Alexander. These underclassmen struggled through the varsity practice all the while contributing much needed humor to the team.

The feisty juniors, Kim Niquette, Jen Swartout and Katie Hill tried to keep the seniors on their feet and running. But the captain quad continued to dominate all aspects of the sport. On leaving, the captain quad wishes that you would prove to "Dowd's crowd" that the Burlington chicks are twice as quick.

Small BHS Pack Leads

Attitude and determination were

It seems hard to believe that the once famed "Pack Attack" of BHS dwindled down to only nine runners this year. But, even though the numbers were small, the determination of the Burlington legacy remained the same. The hard work for the seven varsity and two j.v. runners did, however, pay off. With the strong front running of co-captains Billy Carpenter and George Wolters and the strong finishes by Sean McAuliffe, Greg Bemis, John Sharp, Jason Lesperance and Tom Spear, the Seahorses were able to claim third place finishes in the Burlington Invitational, Northern District Meet, State Meet, and the Meet of Champions. However, the highlight of the season had to be BHS's first win of the Guilderland Invitational held in Guilderland, New York. Many thanks to the hard work and patience of Coach Bob Pecor. Also to be thanked are all of the parents who helped and supported the team during the season. Good luck to Jesse, Webb-head, and the rest of the team in their future running and to seniors Billy Carpenter and George Wolters in their post-graduation endeavors.

Defense Leads The Way

Determination and work pay off

The 1985 field hockey team had a strong season last fall. Seniors Carolyn McLaurin, Anais Langley, Lori McKenzie, and Erin Kilpatrick made up the majority of the aggressive defense which was the consistent strength of the team. Junior Laura Sharp and sophomore Tina Calhoun were very solid along with McLaurin as the defense's first line. Relief players Julie Young and Amy Rubman also worked hard for that success. Goalie Helen Davison led the season for the team, with newcomer to the position, Angel Desautel, finishing out with fine ability.

The young offensive line led by seniors Jen Spafford, Barb Joyal, and aggressive high scorer Margaret Limoge, pulled out many close games for us. Junior Sue Hershberg and sophomore Beth Cummings were consistent starters who filled the empty offensive spaces with determined play, and junior Lynne Vachereau was a reliable reserve player.

The team finished out the season with a loss to Springfield in the playoff game. Despite the loss, this was a big victory because it was a game where the team really worked as a unit. The seniors wish the rest of the team the best of luck. Many thanks to our Coach. Team awards were given as follows: Carolyn McLaurin, MVP; Erin Kilpatrick, Most Outstanding Player; Jen Spafford, Coach's Award; and Angel Desautel and Lori McKenzie, Most Improved. In addition Carolyn McLaurin and Erin Kilpatrick, defense, and Margaret Limoge, offense, were picked as members of the Div. II all-star team.

BHS Football Team Has Big Blue remained undefeated

This year marked the first recent successful season as the 1985 football team rampaged through the regular games. The Big Blue gained early confidence in the non-division games allowing the team to settle and solidify as the "juggernaut" of the north. In the first two games the offense dominated, but the defense made the difference in the division games. The "tough when it counts" defense, with the goal-line stand trademark, held all its opponents to few points than the offense scored in the first two games alone. After spoiling Middlebury's homecoming, we broke a 13 year losing streak against Essex with a 45-9 blow-out. Victories over South Burlington and Spaulding for the Conference championship made the City championship with Rice almost melodramatic as an interim game to the looming State championship. However, accumulated injuries made themselves felt as MSJ took the State title. Although we squeaked by them earlier in the season on the strength of the defense, we lacked the fire power necessary to do it a second time.

As Conference champions it is not surprising that Burlington dominated the NVAC Div. 1 All-Stars with 10 players. Our coach, Bob Yates, was deservedly named "Coach of the Year".

United We Cheer

"We are the mighty seahorses."

The 1985 varsity cheerleading squad, under the direction of coach Jonnie Filion, really wore the shoes to success along with the 1985 football team. The squad consisted of four seniors, co-captain Shelly English, co-captain Stephanie Wilson, Theresa Gunn, and Shelly Clark, and six juniors, who will be returning next year to cheer for football: Amy Blow, Jill Jones, Lisa Sherman, Sandy Benoit, Jennifer Heyman and Olivia Latimer.

The start of our season was slow. We were psyched to receive the honor of being called the varsity cheerleading squad yet some of us were not willing to dedicate the time and effort to be a varsity cheerleader. As our season progressed, however, the attitudes began to change and the squad became strong and supportive. Our season overall was excellent because united is what we became.

We had an excellent coach, Mrs. Jonnie Filion. This was her first year coaching cheerleading at the high school level and she had the responsibility and the pressure of coaching both the varsity and junior varsity squads.

We are proud to announce that cheerleading was recognized as a varsity master's sport for the first time at Burlington High School. We offer our special thanks to all of the parents, students and faculty members who supported us throughout the best season ever.

Dear Seniors:

Do you remember the first books you looked at as a youngster? Even though they contained few words, the pictures in those books told exciting stories, some of which you probably still remember.

Yearbooks, like those books of early childhood, tell their story primarily through pictures. Echoing Shakespeare's observation that "a face is as a book where men may read strange matters," the 1986 OREAD — through its theme "Faces" — focuses our attention on the stories told by the pictures of people which fill its pages.

What do you see in the faces you encounter in these pages? In your senior pictures, I see the quiet satisfaction which comes from courses mastered, compositions performed, plays staged, games won, the records broken. And because of these successes, clearly chronicled on these pages, you can carry away from your high school experiences the certainty that you are capable of similarly meeting the challenges you will face as you assume your place in an adult world.

In the faces of your teachers and administrative staff I see pictured real pride in your accomplishments. Each of us is better for having been associated with you. We join in celebrating your graduation milestone. We have every confidence that you will continue to make us proud and attain many worthy goals in the years ahead.

Faces '86: a treasury of memories and visual proof that you can succeed in the future because you have succeeded in the past. I wish you each Godspeed, and urge you to remember the lesson these pages tell so that you face with confidence the challenges and opportunities awaiting you on each of your tomorrows.

Paul S. Danyow
 Assistant Superintendent of Schools
B.S. Vermont; M.Ed. Vermont

Congratulations to the Class of '86! You have devoted the past thirteen years of your lives to preparing yourselves to assume a productive and satisfying role in the complex and sometimes confusing "real world". While the future will carry members of this class to the far reaches of our small planet and present challenges beyond the confines of your present imagination, the knowledge, wisdom and insight which your school experience has given you will form the foundation of your success. As teachers, it is our hope that the interaction which we have had with you has truly made a difference in your lives, and that you, as you pursue your dreams and ambitions, will in turn, "make a difference" in the lives of those you touch.

The Class of 1986 has made its mark on Burlington High School with talent, energy, and enthusiasm.

Your talent has won accolades and honors in art, music, academics, and athletics. Your energy has provided the impetus to improve the school climate and greatly assisted in raising community support and awareness of the quality of BHS programs. Your enthusiasm has made BHS a great place to be and has enhanced the spirit of excellence that exists at BHS.

As you leave BHS to face the "real world," you will find that you are well prepared and ready to assume your roles and responsibilities as contributing adults. All of us at BHS who have known you are proud of you and extend to you our best wishes for happiness and success.

IN MEMORIAM

Harold Feiner

May 7, 1933 — April 22, 1986

Mr. Harold Feiner, a math teacher at Burlington High School died unexpectedly during spring vacation. Many students and faculty members were saddened to learn of this loss on their return to school.

Mr. Feiner was appreciated by his students for he indicated to them by his gruffness and his kindness that he cared about them as people and as students. One junior said, "You could understand what he was talking about." He was known for his stories. "We laughed at his stories and he would laugh at ours," another student remembered. Many of his present and former students appreciated his ability to present math through games and jokes. He always seemed to have time for each student. "If I had a problem with my math he would always be there to help me," recalled a junior girl.

This math teacher, imposing in size and voice, is remembered as much for the math as for the wisdom imparted almost casually to his students. "If you ever needed advice, he was there to give his two cents," said one. Rest in peace, Mr. Feiner. You were a "cool" teacher.

What will you remember about the class of '86?

"Their sense of humor."

Register

"Once a month, whether we need it or not." Karen Roberts

The Register is published "once a month whether we need it or not." As a result, we published eight issues and covered topics ranging from the fine arts to school politics. Our staff varied in size from month to month. At one point, there were ten people on the staff; at other times only two or three people put out a six page paper. Once again, Mrs. Schultz's journalism class contributed many articles and much time to the paper's production. Thanks go to my staff, the word processing lab, and Judy Wolf in Quick Print.

Wednesday is Highlights Day

"Three . . . two . . . one . . . you're on." Mr. Hobart

BHS Highlights is put together by ITV Technician Bill Hobart and several BHS students. It is a "variety" show televised on Wednesdays over the school ITV system. Filmed in the ITV room and on location throughout BHS, the show is presented by students who are interested in television as a career and by students who just want to have fun. It is presented for all the rest of the BHS students and people in the community to enjoy. Highlights broadcasts interviews with well known people who are visiting the school, covers current school events, presents movie and record reviews, and shows other forms of entertainment. It is all done in good fun (and usually in good taste) with little pressure to be perfect. We are, after all, not CBS. And, we'll be there next year — same time, same channel.

Seniors Steer

"I got an idea! Let's ask Tim Hall!" Jen Spafford

The 1985-86 version of Scholar's Bowl, again coached by Mr. John Cane, got off to a good start with early wins against the first two opponents. In the playoffs, we met a formidable team from Milton. We played well, all scoring points in this last match, but our first half was slow and our momentum in the second wasn't enough to give us the win.

We added three new players this year: Todd Douglas, Jeff Swiatek (alternate), and Jamie O'Halloran (alternate). The regulars — Bruce Parsons and Erica Perl — as well as the new members all represented BHS well over the airwaves.

Under the guidance of our beloved senior advisor, Mr. Blanchard, both the senior steering and the graduation committees had successful years. The steering committee organized a fine Senior Banquet complete with pineapple palms, souvenir tickets, banners, and The Imaginates. The graduation committee organized the elections for Class Marshalls and the selection of the senior speaker. The group also agonized over the choice for a graduation speaker. Tim Hall, BHS '83 and a School Board member, was the choice of the group.

Once again, thanks to our advisor, Mr. Blanchard, a man who we will all remember for years to come.

BHS Actors Take to the Stage

"But . . . the show must go on!" Jason Young as Billy

The BHS Drama Club had one of its most successful years ever. Under the inspiring guidance of Miss O'Brien, we saw three fabulous seasons of productions as well as a chilly fall car wash. The Curious Savage featured Sharron Roberts as the lead with a cast of "crazies." In the winter months, the large cast of Carousel worked many long and hard hours to produce a beautiful show in February. Shyla Nelson, Rachel London, Gahan Pandina, Megan Lipke, and Jason Young carried the show with the able help of a cast of dozens. In the spring, Miss O'Brien and senior directors Erica Perl (who wrote her own play entitled Lortnoc), Gahan Pandina, Jamie O'Halloran, and Amy Pricer produced some exciting and humorous one-act plays. Congratulations to all drama members and thanks again to Miss O'Brien.

"Beating Essex was great." Chris Antonicci

A while back I was introduced to a program called Upward Bound, a federally funded program that presents its participants with new challenges. It requires a willingness to make commitments to yourself and to members of the UB family, the desire to seek new experiences, and the ability to adapt to different living situations.

In June, 1985, I experienced two of the most challenging weeks of my life. In that time, I did many things I thought I was incapable of. I backpacked on the Long Trail, canoed on the Lamoille River, and learned that it was possible to live without a curling iron, makeup, toothpaste, and shampoo.

The remaining five weeks we spent at Johnson State College with students from all over Vermont learning about a college atmosphere and taking courses that would aid us in the coming year. In this five weeks, the participants grew together as a family helping each other through good times and bad. The faculty treated us as equals, and they were always willing to listen. We left the last day with a feeling of leaving home, but we knew that we would meet again in September and every other month after that.

Upward Bound is a wonderful program which lets you reach your goals which we all feel is very important. At BHS, the advisors are Mr. and Mrs. Burke.

The BHS Future Business Leaders of America had a great year. We had 23 people in the club who participated in many activities to raise money. We delivered Halloween-O-Grams, sold fund raiser kits, sold carnations, and had a cake raffle of St. Patrick's Day. We also had a car wash and a Prime Factor restaurant gift certificate raffle, sold "Gummies" at Easter, and cooked for numerous bake sales. Our accomplishments were giving a new typewriter to the Ronald McDonald house, pitching in $150 for the teachers' lounge, and sponsoring the Business Department's Family Night.

We also had much fun at a slumber party and a pizza party to reward ourselves for the good job we did all year. At our state convention, we had four BHS members as state officers: Tamara Bartlett, State Secretary; Carrie Contois, Northern State Vice President. Advisors Mrs. Cote and Miss Donahue are our State Alumni President and Vice President.

AFS Club Hosts Two, Sends Two

"I think we've become masters at fund raising!" Sylvia Cannizzaro

The faces of the AFS Club are very diverse. One may wonder how so many different kinds of people could possibly work as a functioning group, but we did. As a result, this year was very special and successful.

Some of us may like to forget the fundraising involved in AFS, but we have lots of other things to remember besides boxes of oranges. Examples? Successful Cafe Internationals, parties at Katie Stephany's house, the short-term exchange with Winthrop (Maine) High School, and hosting Peter and Joe are good examples. We also have two members, Rebecca Porter and Oliver Carling, who have been accepted for full year programs in Europe for the next school year. We wish them well. Also, best wishes to Peter and Joe as they return to their native countries. Most of us would call those two quite "nett!"

French Club

"We shared many enriching experiences." Mike Danielski

Spanish Club

"Our activities were fun, but strange." M. Limoge

This year the newly formed French Club shared many enriching experiences. Our first activity was a day trip to Montreal in early December. We spent the day sightseeing in this almost French city. Our trip was paid for by bake sales which raised money for the van rental. Next we organized a genuine French meal prepared by members themselves. The menu included such culinary delights as boeuf bourguignon and French torte for dessert.

Our last and biggest activity was an overnight trip to Montreal in May. We stayed at le Residence du Voyageur. We visited the Old Town of the city, saw Notre Dame cathedral, and witnessed two beautiful weddings there. Later, we went to see St. Joseph's Oratorium and climbed high to the top. This allowed a breathtaking view of the city. We returned from our overnight after two days tired but happy that we had participated in such an exciting field trip.

Article by Michael Danielski.

We, the Spanish Club of '85-'86, have had an interesting and enjoyable year. We had many exciting activities including lunch at Tortilla Flat, movies in Spanish at Trinity College, and dinner at Senor Miller's (i Muy rico!).

We also had strange but fun class activities including Spanish Scrabble and Hangman. Our most successful accomplishment was our pinata, Horace the pig, which was made for our international dance and became our mascot for the year.

Buen suerte for the upcoming Spaniards and adios for now.

Student Representatives Grapple With

"Sometimes you just gotta say what the heck." Vice —

Among the usual activities sponsored by the BHS Student Council, many new activities were added and accomplished throughout the year. In the fall, we had a homecoming pep rally and dance, both of which were spirited and successful. In the winter months, thanks to Amy Pricer, Mickey Mood, and Heather Gear, we had a snowy Christmas Ball at the Elk's Club. Megan Lipke and Wendy Purvee organized two very successful blood drawings, an activity the council is proud to sponsor. In addition, the second annual Air Band Dance, two spirit weeks, the ETV auction, joint meetings and exchanges with South Burlington, and of course the Candy Canes were part of our agenda. However, the most exciting and probably most significant of our year long efforts was our campaign for question #1 on the November ballot concerning raising the property tax for additional funds for the schools. Because of the determination of a diverse group of Burlington students, the campaign was effective and our wishes became reality. In addition, a working relationship between the students and the school board was formed. I would like to thank the entire Council for their efforts and Jim Donoghue for his undying support.

Books 'N Things

"May I help you?"
Julie Riley

The newly formed Dungeons and Dragons Club at BHS overcame a rocky start, which was attributed to negative publicity in the national press, and had what all the members considered a successful year. Under the advisorship of Miss Buehner, the ten members met twice a week to pursue the fantasy role playing game. Dungeon Master Melvin Hill said that the games played were continuous and lasted two weeks to a month each.

The Books 'N Things is the place in the cafeteria that we all see every day and take pretty much for granted. Here is a mini-store where all sorts of school things like pencils, pens, notebooks, and rulers are sold. The store also features sweat-shirts and tee shirts with the school name on them. This year Julie Riley and Jenny Boucher were responsible for the senior tee shirts. They first went to classes and explained the tee shirt, and then they returned to collect the money. They also picked the style and did the design of the tee shirt. Books 'N Things is run by the Distributive Education vocational class which includes students from several surrounding schools.

Four Gymnasts Compete

A bigger, stronger girls team

The 1985-86 gymnastics season was another building year as the team begins to grow. The team this year had fifteen active gymnasts, nine returning members and six first year participants. The BHS team completed the season with a 3 — 8 record. Though this did not qualify them for the state competition, four individuals did qualify: Kathy Tomczak, Kristin Corder, Rosie Crichfield, and Andrea Dowhan. The team will be losing seniors Heidi Fisher and Barb Joyal, but the outlook for '86-87 looks encouraging.

Girls Hit the Slopes

A five woman team represents BHS

The 1985-86 girls' alpine ski team tried to shine throughout the season. With a late start on dry land training and an early start on the races, once again the team wasn't too strong. Even under the circumstances, we did manage to have fun. The team consisted of five skiers, mostly underclassmen. The team was led by both sophomore superstar Genvieve Dyer and junior Maria Pichler (Captain and MVP). Other performances were held by the outgoing, crazy Bailee Star, Kirsten Jacobson, and Stephanie Brown.

We who make up the girls team would like to thank those who represented the boys' team and, of course, our coaches Judy Wolf and Dick Painter.

Article by Maria Pichler.

Boys Hit the Slopes

Skiers have a frustrating season.

The boys' downhill ski team worked hard for a moderately successful season which culminated in a modest showing in the Northern District Competition in late February. Although there were many good moments on the slopes, the consistent five — Thor Verdonk, Olav Verdonk, Steve Short, Andrew Musty, Carl Tetzlaff — led the team in points. Alpine skiing is unique as a sport in that it is very individualized even though the team is competing as a whole, and these five were the team's backbone. The early season loss of Co-captain Erik Dittrich due to a broken leg hurt both the leadership and the spirit of the team. But the group struggled and improved throughout the season. The team hosted a very successful invitational meet at Mad River Glen, one of the season's real highlights. Many thanks are in order to our co-coaches for their efforts in keeping us together.

Seahorse Girl Skiers

Depth and impressive individual

The return of coaches Bob Fletcher and Don Haggerty combined with the welcome addition of coach Dave Hugo started this year's Nordic ski season on the up beat. After a month of dry land training, which included hundreds of sit ups, push ups, and polometrics, we were prepared to start skiing. An early snow enabled us to adapt to the new technique of "skating," so that by the first race we were ready to ski without having to wax. Much of this can be attributed to the extra incentive our coaching staff provided and encouragement from the guys team. Although our bus rides were at time rather adventurous, we always managed to make it to places relatively on time and in one piece.

Our awesome "Karhu" relay team, composed of co-MVP's Eve Niquette and Kim Niquette, Coaches' Award recipient Linda Black and most consistent skier Katya Cooke, led us throughout the season to first and second place finishes. At the district meet in Underhill, we qualified for the state meet, placing fifth. A week later we went down to Bellows Falls and with three-quarters of the team sick, we coughed our way through the race and finished respectably. No one at states will forget the hill we skied down or Eve running over two skiers at the bottom or the magazine made for Dave. We'll all remember Joe's Pond, sunny beaches, the Big Chill, "likin it" and Katya always looking for her man. Good luck to the crew; K.K., keep them in line.

BHS Boys Take Fifth

Strong on seniors, Nordic skiers

The winter was early and remained snowy through the entire ski season, enabling the boys from Burlington High School to work together for a respectable season ending with a fifth place finish in the state championships held in the southern part of the state. With seven experienced seniors to anchor the team led by captain Mark Plourde, the boys consistently outpaced much of the competition.

Graduating seniors are Plourde, Chip Hart, Billy Carpenter, Rich Baker, Peter Pembroke, Alex Blum and Jeff Swiatek.

Inexperienced Players

Determination and hard work put

"Young and inexperienced" was the way many people might have described the 1985-86 basketball team at the beginning of the season. But by the end of the season this team with only two returning varsity players was good enough to beat any team.

The team was headed by senior Co-captains Rich Rainer (MVP) and Kevin O'Brien (Coach's Award). Other contributing players included juniors Chris O'Brien, Marc Denton, Eric Blum, Levi Sanders, Ron Trombley, Tony Maietta and Chris McNeil. Sophomore Mike Danielski, at 6'7", was also a major contributor.

The high point of the season was Burlington's defeat of CVU in triple overtime. The Seahorses were down by seven late in the third quarter when they suddenly put things together in high gear. This strong play continued right down to the buzzer and qualified BHS for the state playoffs. In the playoffs, BHS knocked off So. Burlington before losing a hard fought battle to number one seeded Rice Memorial. It was a great season. Much credit goes to Coach Falkenbush for his efforts.

Dedicated Wrestlers

The 85-86 wrestlers make it to

The 1985-86 Seahorse wrestling team had a year of ups and downs. The team started out with a lot of promising new recruits, but the numbers dwindled when the pressure built. Out of all the confusion developed a close-knit squad of dedicated wrestlers who knew that they would be forfeiting at least three weight classes every time out. Our consistent trio and tri-captains, Scott Senna, Darren Tebeau, and Jim Jimmo, could be expected to nearly always pin or decision an opponent. Junior heavyweight Brock Bougor, who eventually made it to third place in the state meet, anchored many wins for us. Our last meet with Vergennes was a "must win" situation for our own personal pride. Tebeau, Jimmo, frosh Brian Baker, Senna, and John Charron all won. But our eventual victory was firmly assured by Bougor's hard fought decision.

Our blood and sweat and good showing despite a thin squad was due to the dedication and hard work of Coach Jim Weaver. Only senior Jody Mesick departs. Next year we roll on to greater heights!

The Burlington High Seahorses skated to fourth place in the regular season with a record of 14-5-1. The young team played aggressively keeping up the tradition at Leddy Arena. The team made it to quarterfinals where they had the advantage of home ice, but the game never came together for BHS and the team lost to BFA, 3-0. Graduating seniors include Sean Steady, Wayne LaBonte, Al Marchessault, Scott Major, Rob Olson, and Dennis Bedard. Squad Makes Comeback

A new coach starts the season

In the short time between football and basketball, the varsity basketball cheerleaders went through many changes. First, we had a new coach, a BHS graduate and former cheerleader, Sarah Lynch-Bessette. Second, the squad changed considerably to include girls from all four grades, which is unusual for a varsity squad. It was rough in the beginning with all the new material which needed to be mastered in a short period of time. With the enthusiasm of our coach, however, we pulled together and were ready for the first game. Remaining from the varsity football squad were Shelly English (Coach's Award), Olivia Latimer, and Lisa Sherman. We brought up three j.v. football cheerleaders, Denise Fitzgerald, Kim Alberry, and Heather Ruel. We finally added the talents of Francine O'Brien (MVP), Amy Bilodeau, and Michelle Bushey to make the team complete.

Although our performance in the Northern Competition was discouraging, we made a comeback at the St. Michael's Catholic leading Clinic. Our goal was to be placed higher than rival schools. By the end of the competition, we took first place. Many thanks to all the parents for their support and special thanks to our coach.

BHS AND S

Local Music From B.H.S.

In 1985-1986 Burlington was graced with more local, young bands than clubs to play in. Nevertheless, several B.H.S. students could be found in the music scene as members of the Vestiges, the Imaginates, and My Dad's Car.

The Vestiges were christened in the summer of 1985 with the addition of Suth Miller (vocals, keyboards) to a four piece band comprised of Geoff Bernstein (drums, backing vocals), Dylan Nolfi (guitar), Billy Greene (Putney School; keyboards, vocals, percussion), and Tris Hill (C.V.U.; bass). Their primary intent is to "write and perform original music" and their repertoire includes reggae, hardcore, rock, jazz, and "new wave-esque" songs drawn from each members own personal influences. The Vestiges are happy with the multitextural effect this produces on their originals and in the diversity of their covers. Original lyrics by Suth and Billy tend to take the form of social commentaries. With three-fifths of the band embarking on further education, the Vestiges' future is indefinite.

After the 1985 graduation, the Imaginates, a well known local band went through some personnel changes. "Phase two" brought in Paul Jaffe (guitar, vocals) and John Rivers (S.B.H.S.; bass). The surviving trio of Jeff Wick (guitars, vocals), Chad Hollister (S.B.H.S.; drums, vocals), and Steve Fortner (S.B.H.S.; keyboards, vocals) made an appearance with this new line-up at the Battle of the Bands. With the band's reformation came an emphasis on jazz, but the Imaginates are not short of rock songs to play. Having played at numerous dances and teen clubs, the group is working their "rock 'n roll/jazz" fusion sound into area clubs. "The end of the Imaginates is near," says Jeff, in reference to the matriculation of Chad and John. "This is not the last you'll hear from me and Paul," adds Jeff.

The newest of the three bands, My Dad's Car, is an outgrowth of a "comedy concept" band, That's Stupid, which started in the fall of 1985. Shortly after their first gig in early February, the original members Adam Ciongoli (bass, songwriter), Eric Durett (guitars, songwriter), and Jon Runge (C.V.U.; drummer) split with singer/harmonicist Gregg Roberts (C.V.U.). On April 7, 1986, after several other one gig projects, My Dad's Car formed with the addition of James O'Halloran (vocals) and Jonah Lawrence (Rice; rhythm guitar). "The overall musical philosophy is and has always been to have fun no matter what people think," says Eric. However, what started as a "stupabilly neo-folk jazz fusion-core" band doing 11 1/2 minute versions of Louie, Louie has turned into a quasi-serious band playing almost completely original music. They have never played two gigs under the same name and hope to keep it that way. "Keep 'em guessing," says Adam.

The end of another year at B.H.S. pulls the plug on a few more bands and the end of some fun for a few musically inclined people. History and the music industry may have overlooked B.H.S.'s contingent of band members, but at least there was noise.

This year was a strange one for the entertainment world. A lively film called Back to the Future outgunned Sly Stallone's action-packed Rambo at the box office. The Color Purple, based on Alice Walker's excellent novel was simplified by Steven Spielberg but saved by terrific performances by Whoopi Goldberg and Oprah Winfrey. There were many musical benefits and concerts such as "Band Aid," "Live Aid," "U.S.A. for Africa," "Hands Across America," and "Farm Aid." "Artists United Against Apartheid" produced the best single of the year, Sun City.

Other than these mega-events, most music was undistinguished, with the exception of a couple of bands — The Replacements and the Del Fuegos — and a searing album by John Cougar Mellencamp. Tipper Gore and the Militant Mothers Against Twisted Sister or whatever tried to make a censorship rule in the music industry, a situation that has yet to be resolved.

Television wasn't much better than the music situation with shows like Dynasty and Miami Vice becoming passe. A savvy talk show, Late Night with David Letterman and a smart detective show, Moonlighting, made for fun TV. St. Elsewhere remained the most intelligent drama on the air. Music videos became less innovative, while things like The Super Bowl Shuffle proved that MTV and NFL don't spell "art" or "talent." Other than that, it was a boring year for those of us looking for real entertainment.

B.H.S. Swim Team Meets

We had a rather short season this year. With the reconstruction of the pool completed, we were ready once more to springboard back into competition. With the special effort of Brian Donaldson and Jamie O'Halloran, a team was assembled of the most able-bodied athletes here at B.H.S. The entire school was skeptical of our existence as a competitive force in the state, but the team showed its true colors. All the swimmers performed beautifully with an especially strong performance from senior Rob Wheeler in the tough meet against Ersatz High School. All divers scored high in the areas of form and style, while the swimmers continued to break all the existing school records. Spectators were thrilled as Donaldson cut through the water in the 200 meter side stroke event in a record breaking time of 15:24. Though there were complaints of poor officiating, the team was satisfied with their season. Many thanks to Coach Ed Ahearn.

CONTROVERSY

During the 1986 legislative session, the Vermont lawmakers passed a bill changing the drinking age from 18 to 21. Attached to this bill is a clause which allows people who turn 18 before July 1, 1986, to drink legally; those who are born on July 1, 1986 or after may not drink legally until they reach the age of 21. Although some argue that the bill will save lives, many others feel that the real reason that the legislature made the change was to save federal highway funds. Some others have argued that statistics show that the group with the largest percentage of DWI convictions is the group consisting of 21 through 25 year olds, though this may also reflect the fact that more people over 21 have a license. There are no easy answers to this problem that has been argued again and again in the halls and classrooms of Burlington High School. The fact is that on July 1, things will change, and students who choose to drink will be breaking a law that has raised as many questions as it has answered.

Burlington High School students have differing opinions on this issue.

— "It's unfair that some people can legally drink and others can't regardless of how responsible the individual person is." (A senior girl) — "It doesn't affect me, but it does. I can get in trouble goin' out drinking with other 18 year olds who are legal." (A senior boy) — "This is going to lead to a lot of people faking I.D.'s which is causing people to commit even more illegal acts." (A senior girl) — "It sets a dangerous precedent for federal infringement on states' rights. If they extort this from us, then mandatory seat belts, what comes next?" (A senior boy) — "To create a new class of half-responsible adults is a violation of our most fundamental rights." (A senior girl) — "If we're considered adults at eighteen, why can't we drink?" (A senior boy) — "The legislature was blackmailed and we're getting screwed." (A senior boy) — "It is a type of discrimination for those born after July 1." (A senior girl) — "It affects us all socially . . ." (A senior girl) — "Canada . . . here we come." (A senior boy)

The Perfect

The perfect female face probably does not walk the halls of our school, but there are many perfect component parts in the senior class that together would make a perfect female face.

The examples of perfection were found by a class poll. Tina Lesem obviously impressed many of her classmates with her natural, long blonde hair because she brushed away all others in the voting. Lisa Ambrose and Maria Lee combined their parts to form the perfect eyes. Lisa won the eye category with her sweet, innocent look, and Maria's dark, thick brows seemed to captivate everyone. Heather Rowland's small, perfectly formed ears also helped to form the perfect face. Her white, pearly teeth and her sensational red lips make Linda Black's smile a highlight of the B.H.S. face. Milia Bell was recognized as having the best nose; her petite and distinct nose easily set above the others. Amy Halverson's well proportioned chin made her a clear winner. Finally, Johanna Lawrence's long, slender, feminine neck holds up the standards of the perfect B.H.S. female face.

Faces of '86

Perfection in a male face doesn't exist within the halls of B.H.S., but think of a perfect male face composed of components from various males of the Class of '86. Eben Sexton was overwhelmingly voted as having the best hair with a thick, bushy, beautiful style that captures the eyes of all. Chosen for his unusual eyebrows, Mark Plourde swept the eyebrow category. George Wolters with his gorgeous baby blue eyes and Adam Ciongoli with his prominent Roman nose contributed eminently to our ideal face. Selected for his sensational mouth, Rich Rainer contributed his part. Chris Dowhan's amazingly athletic chin fits perfectly with Rob Wheeler's petite but distinctive ears to complete the perfect face. Supporting all of this is Sean Steady's tanned, well-proportioned neck.

As I walk to the end of the hall
I try to recall all the faces I saw sucking.
I looked from right to left and I witnessed
People . . . facesucking.
As mouths fly open and tongues move in
The only thing I can think of is mortal sin,
As people were . . . facesucking.
Hands on behinds, legs and arms entwined,
As people were . . . facesucking.
There's not much more to say
About this game that is played in the halls.
There is a time and a place for everything,
But why should I have to see
This thing they call . . . facesucking.

Pumping Iron Through The W i n t e r

Although it is not considered a sport, weight training has become quite popular at B.H.S. We have been "pumping iron" during our off seasons as we strive to be bigger, stronger, and faster than our competition. Promising results have been produced with our common program. We will be better than our opponents!

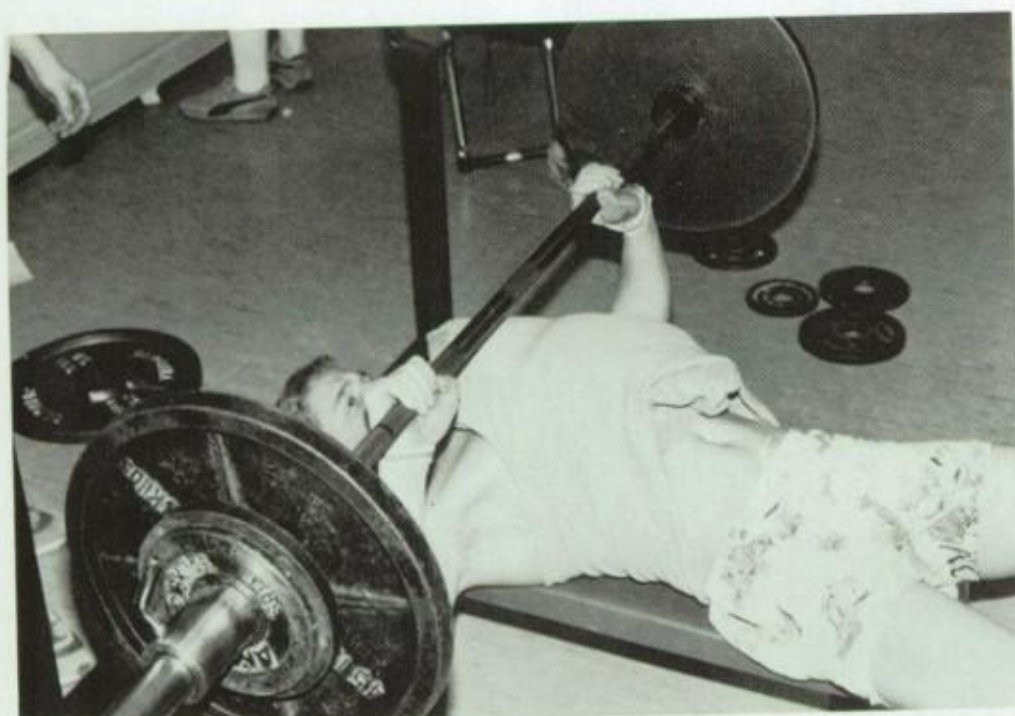

The weight room has also received a generous sprucing up. New equipment was purchased to extend the uses of the weight room. We received a large amount of free weights as well as a Nautilus neck machine and a new squat rack. All of the additions have helped to broaden the uses of the weight training room.

Several of us underclassmen lift together including Tom Murray, Scott Belisle, Todd Belisle, A.D.Kent, Steve Yates, Chris McGrath, Kyle Church and others. It's fun. Come on down!

Linguistics 101

Hey, I just call 'em like I hear 'em. And the B.H.S. students have got a few new ones for Webster and his book this time 'round. Your weekly vocabulary test with Miss Joslyn never saw these nouns, adjectives, and verbs. (If they were there you might have passed one of those tests for once.) Anyway, with television shows the likes of Miami Vice and new words being formed with the continual popularity of skateboarding, the language of teens has evolved as quickly as the fungus in your locker. Here's a sample of some of the wonderful abuse the English language undergoes in a day at Burlington High.

The Budmobile

My car is very unique. It is a 1973 Chevrolet Chevelle Deluxe. It has only six cylinders, but what it lacks in speed it makes up in class. This assault vehicle is equipped with the finest P.A., siren, radar, and audio systems.

The "Budmobile" was originally my grandmother's car. She left it to me in her will. It only has 25,000 miles on it because she never drove it. This fine car received its name when I put a Budweiser tap handle in place of the conventional gear shift lever.

This vehicle has participated in many Burlington High School activities. It has chauffeured many people (who shall remain unnamed) to two senior banquets, and it has hauled many bottles in numerous B.H.S. bottle drives. Also, it has been the backbone of support in many athletic events, especially Burlington — Rice get-togethers. This beautiful car is a primary transporter to social events and it has even sheltered people at many senior camping events.

The "Budmobile" is respected by most everyone — even Mr. Blanchard. It was never towed away from the first row of the teacher's parking lot.

A Stranger in a Strange Land

Who is this Bill Blais? Many people really don't know, but they should. You've probably seen him shuffling about, acting a little bit like a Clark Kent with long hair and an armful of notebooks. If you stop him you would discover that he has a witty sense of humor, a keen imagination, and a great intellect.

Bill's interests include computers. He knows enough to be H.S.'s resident expert. I don't think I'll soon forget the time that he "hacked" onto someone else's computer system and got me kicked out of the computer room! His other interests include fast cars, fast women, and lifting weights, among others. However, these nasty habits do not show on the innocent, smiling face of this young man.

Regardless, Bill is certainly a friendly sort and quite often lends a helping hand. You can find him aiding a "lost" teacher in the M lab quite often. So, if you ever hear the winds in the corridors of "B" Building whispering, "I use a TRS-80," it can only be the lingering ghost of the one and only Bill Blais.

The Girls and Me

Back in the seventh grade, it occurred to me that I should get on the ball. Why have one when I could have them all? From this point on, you'd never see me without a charming female by my side.

Oh, none of these girls were my girlfriends. I have always seemed to amaze guys as I captured the interests of their girlfriends with my wit and charm. On occasion this has caused some of the guys to become jealous and somewhat furious with me, but they always seem to come back to their senses and not worry about this problem. Senior camps will be my last opportunity to capture the hearts of all the girls of the class of '86. Then, it's the world . . .

To all of you guys who had girlfriends at B.H.S., I hope that you have a wonderful life and never forget the guy that almost stole your girlfriend. To all the girls, I hope that I made your life a little happier.

Polyester Skirt to Blue Jeans

Transferring from Rice Memorial High School to Burlington High School wasn't easy to do. I transferred to B.H.S. so that I could take art classes on a daily basis. Continuing an education in art is important to me. I wish to pursue a career that involves art, so I decided to change schools.

B.H.S. and Rice differ a great deal. When I first came to B.H.S., I felt like a fish out of water. There were so many people, and everyone could dress as they wished. This amazed me! I was used to green, polyester skirts and white blouses. Yuk! As a student, I found that I had more freedom and responsibility at B.H.S. This enabled me to be more independent.

What I miss the most about Rice is my friends — the chatting and goofing around. At the end of the senior year, friends choose to go their separate ways; I just chose to separate a year earlier. I made a lot of new friends at B.H.S., but I'm happy to say that I still keep in touch with my close friends from Rice.

Our Resident Alien

Chris Fuller is not quite like the rest of us — he is an alien. Though this term conjures up images of creatures from outer space or Chicanos sneaking into Arizona, it simple means that Chris was born in Canada and has not yet secured his American citizenship. Therefore, unlike us natives, Chris must carry a "resident alien" card with him at all times. He cannot vote even though he is eighteen. He must pay taxes to the U.S. government, and he can join the service, though he is not qualified for security jobs. When he crosses the border back into the States from a trip to Canada, he is always asked to show his card to the customs agent.

Chris was born in Montreal in 1968. His parents and two brothers all born in England. From England, the

On a Tiyyelim

I had always wanted to go to Israel. Finally I found a way to see the country and continue my last year of high school. The Alexander Muss High School in Israel is a program based in Miami for juniors and seniors — an opportunity to tour Israel, earn college credits, and make great relationships.

The bombings at the El-Al terminals in Europe occurred a month before I left. Needless to say, my friends and family were a little wary of sending me off. Once I lived, however, I felt extremely safe. Every man and woman, with the exception of the super-religious, go into the army for three years at the age of 18. So there is the feeling that people knew what they were doing.

I had class six days a week. I studied Jewish history from 2000 BC to modern times, thus learning the beginnings of modern international relations. That was a one-hour class. I also studied physics two hours at a time (you think 45 minutes is enough?). I received credit in humanities, sociology, English, and history so as not to be behind in my classes here in the States.

When the thirty-two people in the dorm and myself were not on campus, we were on tiyyelim or trips. We used Israel as our textbook, traveling to the borders of Jordan, Syria, and Lebanon, the countries Israel is still at war with. We visited sites that they fit into our study of history. We climbed Masada, hiked in the desert and wilderness, swam in the Dead Sea, saw Crusader fortresses, Roman palaces, bathtubs, and prisons. One day we had class in a bunker on the border with Syria. I was learning by experience.

There is no way to fully describe what I experienced during those two months. I learned much about myself and how I fit into the world. I feel much more politically conscious and concerned and less helpless. I realize now that only being "one person" is not an excuse for not getting involved. Just by continuing to learn more, a person can prevent some of the horrors that occurred in our history from happening again.

I hope to return to Israel for part of college to continue studying and see some friends. SHALOM!

Sleeping For Credit

It seems that all my life I've been commended for doing nothing. Even during my early years at grammar school, I was merely "going through the motions" and ending up with a fine grade. The "going through the motions" routine gradually transformed into outright sleeping. I guess one could call it "learned laziness." It may seem to have developed into a chronic habit, but I wouldn't exactly call it a problem. On the contrary, I consider it a gift!

Freedom Found

Khanh and his brother Sang Le are familiar faces in the crowded halls of B.H.S. and on the soccer field. But the story of how these boys got to America is an intriguing one. Their father, who is still living with their mother in Vietnam, is a fisherman in a southern Vietnamese coastal town. In the spring of 1979, he gave his boat to his four sons and 27 other people who sailed to freedom. It took five days and six nights, including surviving a storm and accepting a gift of food and fuel oil from a passing ship, to reach the Philippines. They stayed there for a year in a refugee camp.

Sponsored by the Catholic Charities, the four brothers were kept together and arrived in Vermont in March of 1980. When they first arrived, they were scared. Everything including the language and the Vermont weather was strange. They lived for a while at St. Joseph's. Now that the older two are working, the boys live together.

Their parents sent the boys to freedom because of the opportunities in the United States. They often write and send photographs to their parents. All four, according to Khanh, miss their parents, but all four are glad that they live in the U.S.A. Sang and Khanh hope to get their citizenship soon. Then, sometime in the future, relations between the U.S. and Vietnam may change and they can go back to visit their parents who gave up so much for their sons.

"How Was English, Mom?"

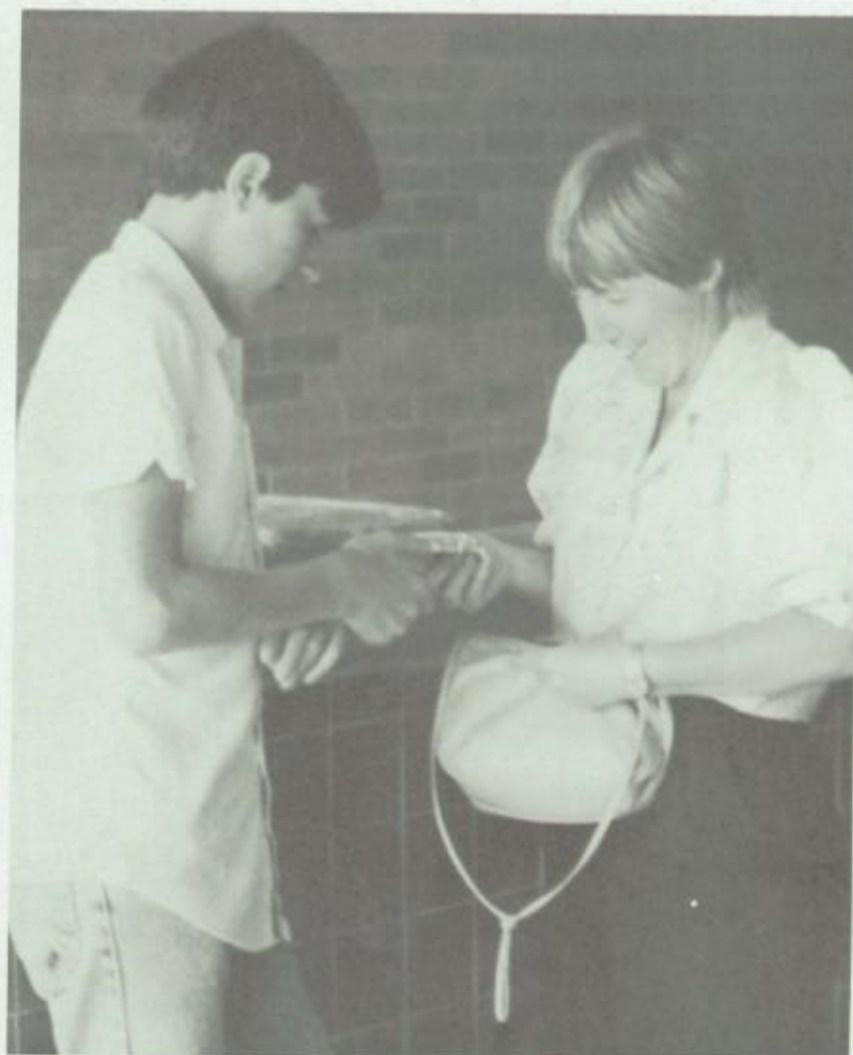

Imagine this situation. You are a freshman arriving at for your first year at B.H.S. — and your mother is a senior in the same school.

This was what really happened to Gary Merchant, because his Mom was finishing up her delayed high school education as a member of the class of 1986. This was tough for Gary because this was one mom who really knew what went on at school, and he could get away with less than his peers could. But it was convenient, too. He says he hit his mom up for money 12 or 14 times; Janet says it was many more times than that. Did he get teased? Yes, some, but he felt it was unimportant because what she was doing was important.

Janet Merchant graduated at the age of 35. She was to have been a member of the South Burlington class of 1970, but she got married at 18 during her junior year. Soon thereafter, she found herself pregnant, and in those days a pregnant woman did not go to school — even if she was married. Four more kids followed. As the youngest went into first grade, Janet began to realize that she was telling her kids how important an education is and she had no diploma. "Putting her money where her mouth was," Janet enrolled with the full support of her husband and family.

Janet was accepted fully by all teachers and students. It was a while before some realized just what her situation was. As students got to know her, she was affectionately called "Mom." Others thought her out as an understanding adult to talk to or get some advice from.

It took two years, but Janet made it. Now she is a high school graduate.

Curtain Call

Late in his senior year, Dylan Nolfi made his first and last appearance as an actor in a B.H.S. drama production when he played a character named "#2" in a play written by fellow senior Eric Perl called Lortnoc. Those who saw him agreed that Dylan was a natural on stage, carrying off the tough, self-centered, extroverted role while also allowing the insecurities of the character to peel through.

When asked if he had ever acted in a dramatic presentation before, Dylan replied, "Never in my whole, entire existence as a human being." This lack of experience was not apparent to the audiences for Dylan is a natural. He indicated that he enjoyed the experience and that he would probably do it again if the opportunity presented itself.

A Mark of Independence

Independence as a senior in high school is not every 17 year old's first priority. For me it was. I've wanted to be on my own for several years now, but I could only achieve financial independence halfway through my senior year. Though living alone as a senior may seem like "a big party," I actually have to take life very seriously and I have to manage my money very carefully.

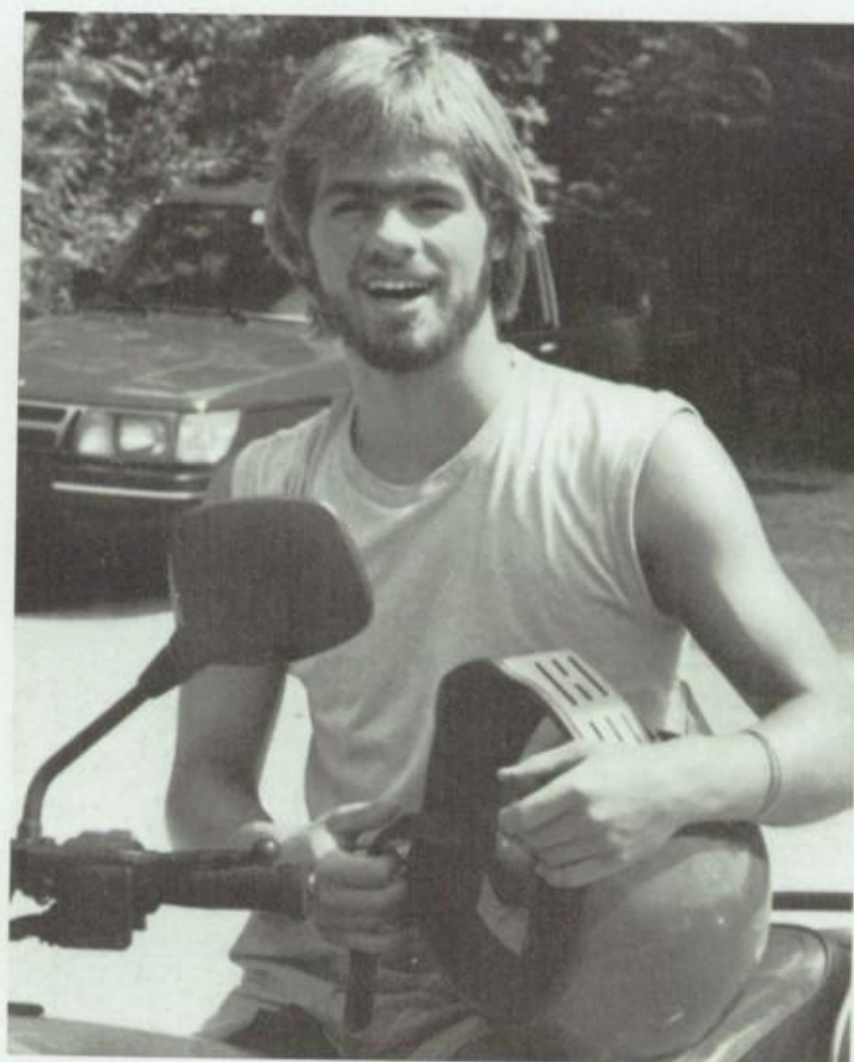

I've been pretty independent for several years, but this winter I paid off both my motorcycle and car, getting the title to both and so a credit rating in the process. The reason that I gained financial independence at such an early age is because of my job as a waiter in a local restaurant. I make enough money working four days a week to cover all my expenses.

Academically I've done fairly well during my senior year considering my schedule. I have taken upper level courses and have been accepted at UVM for the fall semester. My next goal is to put myself through UVM and get a degree in business.

I moved out of my parents' house right in the middle of ski season this year. I took a leave of absence from work which hurt me financially, but I needed time to be a successful captain and VP of the ski team. As the school year ends, I'm living comfortably with two roommates in a six room apartment in central Verooski.

Between work and school, I have only a little bit of free time which I spend either riding my motorcycle, playing tennis, going shopping, or just trying to keep in shape. Though it may seem like I have a lot of responsibility for someone my age, I actually have a lot of fun. I wouldn't trade my independence for anything in the world.

Black and Proud

Stephanie Wilson walks every day through a sea of white faces. Her smiling, pretty black face sets her out from the crowd in high school where more than 98 percent of the student body is white. At B.H.S., Stephanie feels accepted and comfortable because she has grown up with many of her fellow students through the schools of Burlington. Steph has many good friends including close friends of both races.

But Stephanie is black and she is proud. How did this happen when it would appear to be so easy to forget your identity? Steph says her mother had a lot to do with her black pride. Her mother came from the South, and she has made sure that Steph was aware of her heritage. They regularly visit grandparents and other relatives in Georgia. In addition, the family has maintained strong social contacts with the other black families in Chittenden County. Stephanie said, "My mom taught me that there will be prejudice everywhere and it can't be avoided. She taught me to just ignore it. She also taught me that people who are racist or prejudiced are ignorant." Steph has heard rude remarks everywhere she has been, though the worst incident was in Georgia, but she refuses to let them affect her because it is not her problem.

Stephanie Wilson is unique, but not because she is black. She is unique because she is herself and proud of it.

Louisiana Summer

Two weeks in the middle of July playing baseball in 100 degree heat and humidity may not sound like a good time to many people, but to Sean Steady it was not only a good time but also an interesting experience.

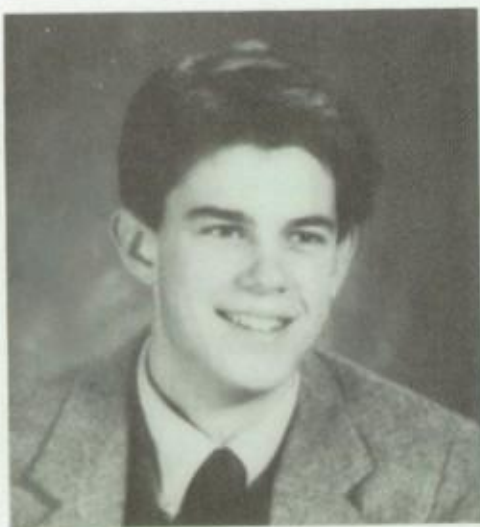

Last summer Sean spent two weeks in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at The National Sports Festival. The National Sports Festival is like a mini-Olympics consisting of many different events similar to those in the Olympic Games. Sean was one of the 64 baseball players chosen in the United States and the only one from Vermont. The players are chosen by a committee that reviews their statistics from the previous season. There were four teams set up depending on whether the players were from the North, South, East, or West areas of the United States. Sean was on the East team which, unfortunately, wasn't too successful.

The competition during the festival was incredible. Sean, being one of the youngest players, was facing the best seventeen and eighteen year olds in the U.S. It was difficult for Sean to adjust to the competition, but, because the others were of such a high caliber, he learned a lot. The players stayed at Louisiana State University where they also played their games. If they weren't playing or practicing baseball, the players were able to go watch the other events which were taking place during the Festival. There were many top name athletes there and it was exciting for Sean to watch them perform.

All in all Sean had a great time at the Festival. He met a lot of people and learned a lot about baseball — all to the benefit of the U.S. baseball team.

Winter in Summer

How would you like to spend your summer vacation in a cold winter climate? To some this may seem absurd, but to Ariana Zarate, it is customary. Ariana was born in Cordoba, Argentina and all of her relatives and many of her friends live there. Although she is an American citizen when she is in the U.S., she is also a citizen of Argentina. This dual citizenship resulted because Ariana was born in Argentina. Both of her parents are native Argentinians, and she came to the United States when she was eight months old. Now she is a naturalized citizen.

Her father, who originally came here to teach at a university in California, teaches now at the University of Vermont. This allows the family to annually return to their native country. Ariana's personal experience in this culture that she was born in was during her sophomore year when her family lived there for a year while her father was on a sabbatical. During that year she attended an Argentinean school and furthered her fluency in Spanish.

BHS Students Go To Washington

"I'm coming back here sometime, and I won't be a visitor!" Anonymous BHS'er

"Another seminar?"

This groan of disbelief came as a result of sore feet, fatigued minds, and aching backs that came along as side effects of the Close-Up experience.

But Close-Up became much more than an opportunity to press yourself to your limits of endurance. For those of us who decided to participate in the week in Washington, D. C., it was a true learning experience. We could see first hand the elements of our government and how they operate. It taught us the answers to some questions, but, more importantly, it taught us to ask more questions. And, of course, it created friendships between those of us from BHS and kids from across the nation. Actually, the real groans and aches were not so much from Close-Up but as a result of having to leave Washington to return home.

The Oread Presents "Faces of '86"

"If I never see an underclassman picture again, it won't

In capturing the happenings and events of this school year, we have collected an assortment of faces, both happy and sad, angry and surprised. As the seasons changed and individuals grew, expressions changed.

Because the face is such an important part of the yearbook and our very selves, the yearbook staff decided that we would use "faces" as our theme. We used the seasonal organization just to be different. Two of our main goals this year were to be as original as possible and to include as many photos as possible. Designing and completing a yearbook is a huge job, and it wouldn't have been possible without the help of Mr. Ayers and input of many of the students and teachers here at BHS.

And so, here it is. Enjoy the Faces of '86 today and for many years to come.

*"... now I really live here and sometimes it's hard to decide where my real home is." Peter Marbet

I spent the summer prior to my senior year at BHS in France. Commuting between Sainte Hermine and La Tranche sur le Mer, two small towns on the Western coast, I lived there for almost three months. The family I stayed with were the Bodins — Annette, Louis, and their son Louis-Gonzague. They were very warm, friendly people who were helpful and patient in teaching me about their part of France and the French lifestyle.

Much of my trip was more than just sightseeing and meeting new people. It was an experience that taught me about life and adjusting to something new. Being a part-time sociologist became my hobby. I observed as much as I could about the culture and the idiosyncrasies of the French people; I wanted to get much more out of my summer than just improved French language skills. Asking questions, reading the newspapers and magazines, listening to the radio, watching television, or just watching people helped me gain a little more insight onto what the foreign country was all about.

Living in a hotel for more than half of the summer (it was one of two family businesses), I spent a great deal of time on the beautiful, long beach at La Tranche helping my French father with the hotel business. From staying there, I experienced many new things including new food (a lot of seafood) and the workings of a hotel during the busy tourist season.

It's funny to think that the summer I spent in France wasn't as valuable to me because of the people I met. It was valuable because of the things I learned about myself and others. We are not that different, Americans and French. We share the same everyday concerns, but how we deal with them is different. Understanding these things and adjusting to them is something that one must do if she or he expects to learn from traveling.

Article by Anais Langley.

When I first got my family application, I had to use a map to figure out where I was going. Now, almost ten months later, I know a lot about Vermont and Burlington. First when I arrived, I visited like a tourist, but now I really live here and sometimes it's hard to decide where my real home is.

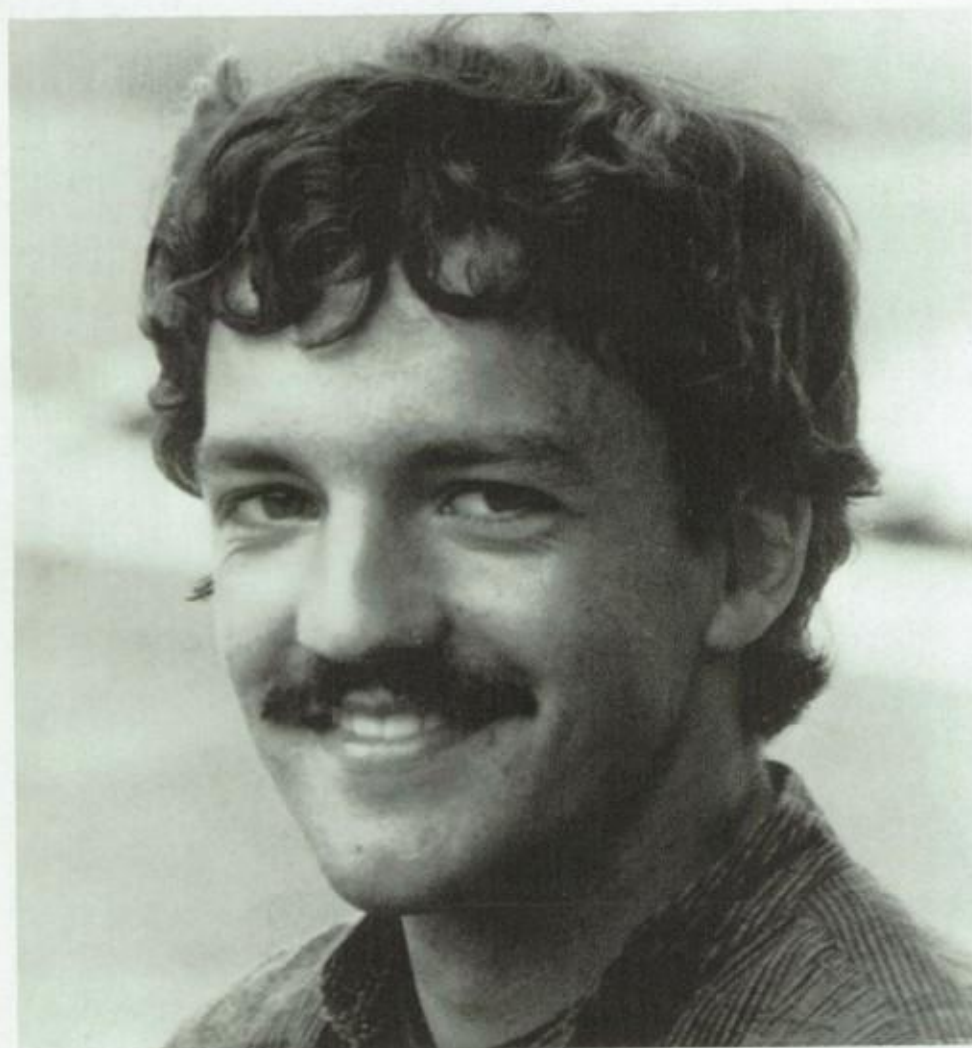

The first day at BHS was a very special day. I came into a school with a totally different background and system where something like a school spirit and good relationships between teachers and students exists. Today, I still think that the values of education and the (educational) system are one of the most different things between our countries. I especially liked the sports and other after school activities I participated in.

Although my year has been a fantastic one, there have been some hard times, too. It was hard to adjust to the cold, the language at the beginning, and being without my old friends. After a couple of months I started to make real friends, and now it will be hard to leave them when I go back to Switzerland in July.

Although my future is very unclear at this moment, here is one thing I know: I'll be back in Vermont and Burlington one day. Many thanks to my close friends, Joe, Bruce, and Leslie.

My address in Switzerland: Peter Marbet, Promenadenweg 3a, 3110 Munsingen, Switzerland.

Joe and Lee Go Abroad

"BHS . . . was the biggest surprise for me." Joe Yoshigoe

When I was told my host family's address, I was embarrassed because I didn't know where is Vermont. My knowledge about Vermont before I came here was that it was a very beautiful state and you can ski if you want. That's it! But now I can say here is a really beautiful place and I enjoyed skiing in the winter.

And now I'll have to tell about school. BHS . . . it was the biggest surprise for me. Here everything is so different from my Japanese high school. Every person I met was so nice. I had a great time here. I learned a lot and not only English or academic subjects. The difference of lifestyle and your culture's approach about education. People's different attitudes were sometimes funny for me. I'll never forget this great experience, and I want to say thanks for everybody who helped me. And special thanks for Mrs. Fontaine, the AFS Club, and my host families. Good-bye everyone. Times go so fast.

My address: Michiharu (Joe) Yoshigoe, 7-20 5-chome Nishimizue, Edogawa-ku, Tokyo 134, Japan.

NHS Members Serve School, Community

"Punctuality is not one of my virtues." Jeff Swiatek,

The Burlington chapter of the National Honor Society is dedicated to serving the school and community. The 1985-86 members continued this tradition by participating in two service projects. In November, we sent representatives to help with the Vermont ETV Telethon, and we planted more bulbs in the courtyard between A and B buildings with the special education students.

A committee was established to write bylaws for governing our chapter. The people who participated on this committee were Jeff Swiatek, Katya Cooke, Andy Bean, Carla Duarte, Kristin Rosner, Eve Niquette, and Rich Baker. The by-laws were presented to the members in May for a vote.

In May, we continued the tradition of a candle light induction service to welcome the new members. The speakers were Mr. Blanchard, Mr. Chattman, Dr. Gutknecht. Student speakers were Jeff Swiatek, Kristin Rosner, Andy Bean, Rich Baker, and Katya Cooke. Music selections were presented by Shyla Nelson and Maria Lee.

Our new advisors this year, Miss Aichroth and Miss Allard, were a great support, and we appreciate their efforts.

We Believe in Music

"This year . . . fun and exciting and crazy . . ." Andy Bean

The band once again was highly active in the school and community. The big event of the year was the New England Music Festival, which was held in Burlington this year. The Festival was a success in all aspects, and the Music Department finally had money they could use to improve the quality of the department. The percussion section received all new marching equipment to replace the twenty year old drums. But, most importantly, the department has money to work with next year.

In addition to performing two concerts at the high school, the band showed its school spirit by playing at the football and basketball games. They continued their tradition of playing at the Birchwood Nursing Home on Thanksgiving and marched for the Special Olympics and the Memorial Day parade. It was a busy but fun year.

A Successful Year of Singing

"This year included the best of times and the worst of times." Gahan Pandina

The Burlington High School Chorus, like the other performing groups in the Music Department, has had a tremendously busy year. As a department, we organized and successfully hosted the 1986 New England Music Festival, which was a very heavy undertaking. The chorus performed last winter in the Christmas concert at school. Also the group sang in downtown Burlington at the 1985 Carolfest. In the spring, the chorus wrapped up the year with a Tribute to Seniors final concert.

The year was a busy one, but a very productive one as well. Many thanks to those who made our successes possible and our dreams attainable.

Orchestra Keeps Playing Along

"We meet Wednesday afternoons, we don't wear ties, and we don't need a conductor!" Bill Blais

As usual, the BHS orchestra performed two concerts together and some individual members performed in festivals. Most in the group played in the orchestra for the joint Drama Club — Music Department presentation of Carousel. Although they were not the most organized group and sometimes the rehearsals were sparsely attended, the orchestra worked hard and somehow managed to get it together before each concert. Thanks to Mr. Patrick and the graduating seniors for helping to make it an interesting and harmonious orchestral season.

Tennis Team Makes It

The BHS girls have a strong '86

Despite the rain and the busy schedule of the individual players, the 1986 girls' tennis team had a fun and successful season. With a record of 7 — 5, the team pushed their way into the state quarter finals where they had to play CVU. The team lost this match 3 — 6, but Margaret Limoge, Coleen Crowley, and Erin Hart proved they could win. The rest of the team put up a great fight.

This year the team will be losing five seniors: Margaret Limoge, #1; Katie Stephany, #4; Rebecca Porter, #8; Tina Lesem, #9; and Linda Black, #10. All of these departing seniors have great hopes for next year's team. The MVP award this year was shared by freshman Erin Hart and sophomore Tina Calhoun. The Coach's Award was given to Linda Black for her hard work and her level of tolerance.

The team would like to thank Rhonda Colvard for her encouragement and her help. We would like to congratulate her baby on it's great timing.

Consistent performances lead to

Poor performance in states was not representative of our season. With seven returning seniors and having lost none of our top nine from last year, we expected to be a powerhouse. We took an early loss to Rice in our opener, one of only three during the regular season. The other two were a heartbreaking 3 — 4 loss to South Burlington and our final match against Rutland. Throughout the season, we had consistent playing from Chris Dowhan and Rich Baker, numbers 3 and 4 in singles, as well as the spirited efforts of our 2nd and 5th players, Leland and Chip Hart, respectively. Captain Jeff Swiatek, #1, had back problems that prevented him from playing to his potential. Our doubles were young and inexperienced as teams, but they showed strong desire to win which helped them overcome more practiced opponents. The loss of Chris Dowhan and Dan Kaufman, #6, to summer jobs weakened our lineup going into states where we were stopped at the quarterfinals.

Girls Track Team

BHS girls show many talents and

For the second year in a row, the girls' track team succeeded in finishing second in the state meet. Under the excellent coaching of Peggy Economu, who was assisted by Vicki Johnson, Mr. Erb, and Mr. Peck, the team improved right up to the end. Winning nearly every duo meet during the season, the team went into the Burlington Invitational ready to do well. The many top individual performances, including Jen Swartout in the 800, Katie Hill in the 1500, and an overall excellent effort by all, helped to boost us to a second place tie with Rice. With new found strength in the field events in Tricia Casey and Christine Emmons in the shot and discus and the addition of some "fast freshmen," the team had many outstanding accomplishments. Donna Gerace, despite missing the two weeks of training before Districts with mono, bounced back to take the 400m title in both the districts and the states. The 4x100 relay team consisting of Diane Barrett, Rosie Crichfield, Carolyn McLaurin, and Christy Buchanan, worked on their handoffs all season. It paid off when they tied the state record with a first place finish in the states. Carolyn and Rosie also served as members of the 4x400 relay team. Rosie, after running the 100m and winning the 200 in districts, ran the third leg of the relay. A win of the relay determined our district championship and a team effort by Jen, Carolyn, Rosie, and Donna assured the win.

Next year's team should be awesome with the addition of some more star freshmen, coaches, and only the loss of the "captain-quad" — Maria Lee, Carolyn McLaurin, Eve Niquette, and Katya Cooke. Good luck, gang!

Baseball Has Second

The boys of Orrie Jay Field make

The 1986 boys' baseball team came within one run of a perfect season and a State Championship. The team defeated Missisquoi 4-3 in the regular season to clinch the Metro Conference title for the second year in a row, but bowed to Missisquoi in the state finals, 8-7. The Seahorses ended the season with an outstanding 18-1 record. The pitching of Rich Rainer and Rob Wheeler was the key to winning early in the season as the team won four games in a row by just one run. Midway through the season the offense came together and started to score runs, including a 21-0 victory over Winooski, a 12-3 win over Essex, and a 14-0 decision against BFA. For the season the team scored 151 runs while only giving up 61 runs.

Graduating from the 1986 team are All Star shortstop Sean Steady, All Star first baseman Carl Tetzlaff, All Star pitcher/outfielder Rob Wheeler, Twin State All Star pitcher Rich Rainer, Rob Olson, Bill Payne, Dave Hathaway, Mike Boucher, Bill Goulet, Tim Terhune, Rich Wright, Jim Brown, and Brian Allard. A special thanks is in order to Coach Jim Billings and Coach Andy Barlow.

With much frustration but even more determination, the 1986 varsity softball team played well enough to make the playoffs, the first time since the 1978 season. We ended our season with a record of 7-10. Six seniors will be graduating: Sharon Leggett, Lori McKenzie, Captain Karen Leggett, Erin Kilpatrick, Becky Girouard, and captain Kelly St. Louis.

Seniors Hold a Banquet to Say 'Bye

"The food was okay, the dancing was good, but the

"We may never pass this way again . . ." was the theme for the '86 Senior Banquet. Street names and balloons covered the walls and ceiling of Marsh Hall. By the time the partiers were finished eating, the band was ready to play. The rowdy crowd of seniors immediately moved to the dance floor where they danced for the next four hours to music played by BHS's own Imaginates. Special thanks should be given to Mr. Blanchard, Mickey Mood, Amy Pricer, Heather Gear, Kelly Wilford, Tarn Duerinick, and Linda Black for all of their contributions to the successful evening.

I, Rich Baker, being of sound body and almost fit mind hereby turn over leadership of the Young Republicans to Mr. Donoghue. Furthermore, to Tim — charge of the tennis crew; Leland — Senior Sem; Erin, Katie and Kim — on cold mornings waiting for the ski bus, I leave Alan, Dan and Jamie. Most of all, I leave my happiest memories to Jen Minahan, with the best of luck.

I, Pedushka Babelski, ask that the varsity football team seek revenge on Spaulding for the rearrangement of my family jewels. I also bequeath the Bud-mobile's front row parking spot to any that are worthy of it!

I, B.B., of semi-sound mind and body, do bequeath to the halls of Burlington High School, the echoes of my diabolic laughter.

I, Rickera, being of a mind which I waste and a waist which I mind, hereby leave: to #6 — a girlfriend with J.S.'s wardrobe; to Mo-wee-ah — tar beach (use it well) and an eternal blob; to Naiser; a schsnake; to "Nad-"Piggy" and Detour room escapades (HA!); to Han-C.W.S.I.T.P.; to Slush — balloons, poodles, Deathstars, and the Legacy of the Libidious Librarians; to Liebalu, B.M.W.G.'s and best luck for J.V.; to Bouillion — rough wooing (not a chance, moo); to J.D. — a new steering wheel (Sorry!); to Mrs. K. — a date with Judge Wapner; to Miss Mathauer — the Nobel Prize for Patience; to Sam — BUFTY (abuse it well!); to the L.L. Crew — a reunion, my treat (right!); and to B.H.S. — Love on ya! (-Bowie)

I, Billy Payne, leave Scott Belisle my corner back position and lollipops. I leave Todd Belisle my catching position. To the Class of '86 — Best Wishes.

I Jennapostrophe Spaff, being of dazed mind and busy body, leave to the following tokens of remembrance: to Jason, luck and a good reputation next year; to Maria, a stick-up; to Miley and the chicks, countless memories of woodlawn parties; to Amy, quarters for the CB; to Sweet William, a ticket and two prized possessions you found so exciting — I think so maybe; to Jesse, the next three years suspension free and a date with Boris Becker; and finally, thanks to J.D. for being who you are.

I, Julie Riley, leave all the luck to my brother Bobby. Have fun the next three years. I leave lots of luck to my cousin Jennifer Varin who will be here next year; special luck to Chris Varin: your last year is the best. You've been a great friend. Good luck to all the new seniors, especially you, Tom Ritchie!

I, La T., being of snodgrass status, leave something significant to a bespectacled mentor to share with a literary leader with combustible lipgear; a babe and a song to Yabert M.; to Schnuzz, whose name never stuck, a pith helmet and a big yawn because I can't stand it anymore; to Itz, a person of multiple identities, all that she can interpret from this plus a lack of swozzlers. Finally a CI to anyone who wants it.

I, A.S., leave to Willie LeBeau all of the pressure and excitement of a senior year. I also leave to my "little sis" Linda my spot in the smoking area.

I, Becca, leave to all my soccer buddies my stock of hilarious jokes, pranks, insults, and outfits. Good luck next year! To Leila, I leave my skills in math, $100 worth of dimes to call home, and my speeding records. To Bridget, I hope you miss your Dude; you better write! Jen. Sw., hope you find a poet replacement. To Katya, Eve, Chris, and Rick, thanx! It was enough! Bailee, I leave you my lunch scraps. Chip and Leland: "Yeah." Sarah: "Do I know you?" Gretchen: "I'll wrestle anytime." Hi, Mom. Thanks for the big idea!

I, Stephanie #2, wish all my friends luck wherever they go. 2Cheri & Jeff, I leave all the happiness that BHS has given 2me (HINT!). 2my brother Jason, GOOD LUCK! 4more good times, I take with me my twin, Stephanie #1. (PSC, here we come!) Thanks for EVERYTHING! Thank U George for your love and the best junior year ever. I LOVE YOU! 4those who have touched my life, I will never 4get you.

I, Heidi Fisher, want to leave my smile and laugh to Amy B.; my paper to Steve S.; my ruler for Accting II to Kathy T.; and to my Dad, lots of luck for his last year here. Only one more year to go guys. Have fun!

I, Adam, bequeath the following: 2 NAD, $10 in quarters for the Chance and 100 1-gig bands; 2 Chip: kisses and hugs; 2 Happy, my legacy — "Give 'em hell."; 2 Suth: "How much?"; Michelle Burke: You'll never know. Hold on to 16 as long as you can 'cuz time flies. Most, love to James because you were always there when it counted. Finally, 2 P. Townshend and J.D. for inspiration and guidance: I've grown, I've learned, I'll never forget this. Stay Free.

We, Jenny and Julie, leave our "Frick and Frack" ego to Jenny and Jo-Ann Varin. Have fun! We did!

I, Shyla, leave to my brother tips on good behavior; to Keith and Andy, I leave a cooler; to Fluffy, the BHS stage and very fond memories; to Jamie, thanks for everything! Love ya! To Jen, I leave a great talk and tremendous admiration; to Miss O'Brien, thank you for giving me the chance; to Kim, I leave some great talks, great memories, and the future at groovy UV! And to RCP: 3421, WF, CZ, MENC, and lots of love! Thank you for everything! Best wishes.

I, M.P., hereby do leave 1-2 to the crew; I leave Flanny the ghani; I leave Sharp the shale; I leave C woods to the freshmen. To Hoser and Kunie, I leave Anita's face and hopes for a kick a ski season, and also a big bomber before the race. Finally, I leave Jen to Fletch, Fletch to Jen, and don't forget Bob Atchinsen.

I, Katya, being of muscular legs and frizzy hair, do hereby bequeath to my little bro all the fun that a cross country career can bring. To Eve, we've had some great times; look out Boston, here we come! To Leila, I leave the legacy of the 3-mile! Keep up the good work. To Mr. Gibson, thanks for your help. To Katie H., I leave the power to break the 1500. Go for it. To Bec, have fun in Sveergel! To all my buds, remember — next time I might not be around to clean up.

I, Katherine Brown, being of sound mind and body, leave my love for the school lunches to Jeff. I leave my diploma to my brother who never finished here at B.H.S.

I, Keith Dragon, leave to Erik Dittrich the "method" and a 6 pack; to Jack Mahoney, I leave awesome sledding abilities and a 6 pack; to Chip M., I leave my drinking abilities, a dozen eggs, and a 6 pack of Coke; to Jon Behnke, I leave the YBB321; to Sarah Brady, I leave my lucky locker 1313; to Kim Ni-quette, I leave my wish for the best of luck in the future.

To A.S., thanks for being a friend. You will be thought of often and never forgotten. To J.R., I'll miss you very much. Whenever I look at the corner I will always be thinking of you. G.S.: I love you very much and I'll always remember you. To Mrs. C., thank you for orienting me to the school in '82. To Mrs. W., thanks for your help in enabling me to graduate. To Mr. F., thanks for helping me. I owe you my NYSPA info book. Mr. B.: I hope that you have a good trip down that long and winding road. I will, too. J.R.

I, Maria, do bequeath the following: to Milia, memories of freshman year, '69, and tuna fish grinders on the porch; to Katus, "Stewart rules!" and Mickey on a stickey; to Jen, "Little Bittie Dudes get burned!"; to Amy, memories of cross country — at least we were good once! To all of the chicks, remember you're the hottest! To Sean, remember Wayne; without him where would we be? To Bridget, I leave a lot of luck. You'll need it to get through two more years here. To Britt, I leave the key to my dorm room. I think you'll need it.

I, Peter, being of sound mental state and whole body, do hereby leave the following: to the X-C ski team, a pair of heaters to be shared by the whole team; to Heidi, many great memories; to Todd, a new doo and a Michael Jackson poster.

I, S.L., being of sound mind, leave all the good times to Kelly G. 4always being there for me when I needed someone there. I love you very much. I also want to thank Kinger for being a good friend. Good luck. I also leave my locker to my younger brother Scott. To all who graduate after me, I hope that your year was as good as mine.

I, Frogger, leave Brown, Mess, Brades, Holon, Brass, Des, and Bubba a winning season in V. softball next year. To Barr, I leave my spot on the mound. Mr. Walsh — stay tough! To all my friends, good luck as you finish BHS. I'll miss you all. Hope your senior year will be as great as mine was.

I, N.R., do hereby leave to Jodi Nolan a lot of good memories of mods 7/8 and a wish of good luck in the following years. To Mr. Kent, I leave a bottle of Visine and a year of January 4th's. To my senior friends, thanks for a great high school life. Ada, school wouldn't have been the same without you. To BHS, I leave a dirty locker and a fond farewell.

I, M.K., do hereby bequeath my calculator to my brother, Jeff. To Andy, I leave my best wishes. To Keith, I leave my good luck. And to everyone else, I leave.

I, Niq, leave the following: to Kat a CVU skier, tan legs and gas for the drives downtown; to Bec, some experience, "IS IT ENOUGH?"; a guy, and a helmet so you won't be bruised the next morning; to Beth, a lifetime supply of candy; to Ste, memories and good luck; to K.K. and Mongoose, tall guys and a stride to run over the competition; to Deano, thanks and a new rug for the church; to the X-C team, Vick and Starr Farm; to the track team, quarters, sun and more 3 mile women; to the X-C ski team, snow; and to the next Oread staff, lots of deadlines and little time; to my buds, some sloe fizzies!

I, S.M., being of sound mind and body, leave C woods and the driver's ed hallway where I had many good times to Derrick Miles and all the partiers of BHS.

I, Tim, being of warped mind and battered body, do hereby leave Sam (Hubba) and Tony (Bubba) a pack of regular gum. I also leave Tony B. my honor roll grades. God knows he's need them. I also leave BHS forever. I leave to all you juniors a great senior year. I leave my locker to anyone who wants it. I leave to everyone a smile and patience to all the people who have Mr. Ayers.

I, Chipper-doo, leave the following: a REAL car for Erik D. to run over Leland; a thread a paperclip to 9/10 calculus; a cat "doo-doo" to Chris, Jeff, Rich, Carla, and Lisa; the TURBO from my car to Mrs. G.; a cure for AIDS to Adam; my girlfriend to NO ONE. Finally, I want my Steel Album back, Mark! Remember, Rosie, be good because I will always be watching Olive Juice.

I, Kara, leave the following: 2 Michele a "pencil," a code book, and the great memories of all our adventures; 2 Ria a "kazoo" and a pack of YSL's; 2 the Studs, a case of P.; 2 Madagascar, a "Da, Da, Da, Da, Uh, Uh!"; 2 Fred, a hotel room; 2 Wendy, an impossible puzzle — life; 2 all I 4got — a hug. "Michelle" and "Maria," don't 4get 5-17-90! 2 Glenn, I leave all the luck and 2 Brian, a fun 4 years. 2 Colorado, I give my life! See ya!

We, Tarn and Kel, leave to Wooley Bear our locker area since he is always there anyway. To Rich Wright, we leave the top of locker 697. To our Zombie brother, we leave all of the halls to roam aimlessly with his Walkman and blank looks. To Katie we leave one space in the first row in the teachers' parking lock. Good luck.

I, R.L., being of sound mind, leave Mr. Pfingst my baby egg to take care of. To Mrs. Stanton, I leave my complaints and the fact that some day I might quit smoking. Last but not least, I leave Mrs. Nemcosky all my love for being there when I needed her. She understood when no one else seemed to. Mrs. Nem., thanks for helping me through the year!

I, Katus, leave to the hottest chicks of '86 fond remembrances of doobage; to Smiley, a case and a couple belches; to Naiser, a dog name Hyman and more film for the partycam; to Maria, a case of Jolen's and an Aerosmith tape; to Dinda, a bottle of Two Fingers; to Aim, a new jean jacket; to Jen a new universe on Main Line Philly; and to my baby bro John, may your days at B.H.S. be as fun as mine.

I, J.B., leave to my brother Jeff the best of luck and all of my old notebooks: to Chris Varin, thanks for being that "special someone" who made my two years of high school (especially my senior year) the best. It's your turn now, so make the most of it. All memories will last forever. I love you!

"Well I can laugh or I can learn to think so help me now to find out what I feel ... what you see is what you get but it sure ain't what we need ... ecstasy is what I need ... they can tell you what to do but they'll make a fool of you ... we're on a road to nowhere." (Talking Heads) SYMBOLIC LOGIC IS DEPRAVITY. Ciao, Claire.

I, C.T., of altered mind and abused body (but still in good running shape) hereby leave the following: to Senor Miller, many thanx and regards; to Mr. Pfingst, a bvd and a blindfold; to the Canada Club, good-bye but not farewell. Flanny, beware of the powerage buddy. Hang in there, Sparker and Shafe. And, remember Juniors, it's not the work but the play.

I, Aim, being of aimless mind and chunky but muscular thighs do bequeath the following: to Mi the apologetic lover and "I'm sorry, do you forgive me?"; to Maria, our past glories and a bowl of cinnamon toast crunch; to Jenna, thanks for being there to yell at, a little ... warfare, and a lot of "jiz" in Italy; to Dinde, Latin class, the Pub delivery boys and my tightest jeans ever. For Krate, I leave a faded blue jean jacket and Longe Bros. own Matthew Broderick. Oh yea, to Britt, a memorable prom '86 — better luck next year. To Dr. Glade, I leave you the memories of 15/16, a tree house on the UVM green and that shirt you let me borrow — I'm sure it didn't shrink that much! To Jonathan, I leave one pair of downhill poles, although I know you can ski without them, a bottle of Carnival, a broken glass at Finbar's, four wheeling on the X-C course, a little " ... but we're just friends" and a lot of fun!

I, Naiser, leave the hottest chicks of '86, some altered times, and a camera for more party pictures; to Erica and Suth and Adam, future special lunches; to Nad, some gardening tips; to Bruce and Carolyn, an English edition of every French book written; to Jamie, the little sleazer — have a ball in California; to all the teachers, sure I'm most likely to have a lobotomy, but I'll show all of you!

I, Deborah, would leave to my kid sister the ability to flirt, but I see you have already acquired it. To my brother, I leave the need and desire to party. To both of you, I leave the knowledge of the importance of high school and grades. To "Me," I leave my phone number and address always so we can continue our talks. To Mike, I leave love and friendship.

I, Kristen, leave fond memories of Rice. To Carolyn, best of luck at Syracuse. Alex B.: Stay off the beltline. Pat Brown: "Think of me and everything will be all right." Keep smiling! To B.H.S., I happily leave.

I, A.B., leave Alex Chaffee to the percussion section. Good luck! Sarah, you get the untouched brodie to go with your license. Kim, this is your year; keep up your confidence and have a great one. Geoff: All-States and All-New England's are yours. Ski: give Coach something to cheer about! My mind and health should be questioned after four years of this place.

I, Amer, do hereby leave the following items: to Heather, a bus ticket to Hartford; to J.Y., a divorce; to Sharon, 45 minutes of Hugh's cracks; to Sam, a swoon; to Mike, an empty doorstep; to my cast, roses and a rewrite in real English. Farewell.

I, Kel, leave Mike S. one night for Purple Rain, the song I Can't Fight This Feeling, and China Lite. Thanks for the talks and the memories. To Mr. McCarthy, I leave one pair of sneakers. You still owe me a glove. To Rosie, I leave the memories of jewelry and our friend. To Geoff, I leave special thanks, reservations for seven, Spies Like Us, and falling on the ice.

I, being the female class partier, leave that responsibility to a qualified Sharp with many late night runs as long as she stays out of the mountains. To Flan, I leave an empty locker and a search for someone else to give "a" to. Jeff; you'll make it if you want. Jaff, your the last of the bros. tradition. To Jim Morrison, I'll missed up the tripped up, snowy walks. To the bake crew, you guys are the best. Love you, Yake.

I, Francine, leave my two little bro my lunch money and many happy moments. Love ya. To C.C., C.C., and L.S., have fun next year. it only happens once. To Mr. P., I leave my egg and noisy feet. To all my senior friends, high school wouldn't have been the same without you. Wendy, thank you for being such a great friend. You're terrific. To B.H.S. I leave the best 4 years of my life. I'll miss you.

I, E.S., being of sound mind and body, leave the ability to help all the kids graduate to Tom Gibson. To Sandra and Julie, I leave the big bad seal.

I, S.C., leave my old boy friends to whoever wants them. I also leave my cheerleading career to my best friend, Amy Blow. I also leave all of my memories both good and bad to all my friends. I also leave lots of sunshine and happiness to all the great teachers and coaches.

I, S.E., leave to Scott B., Shane K., Kevin B., and Kevin C. my flirtatious abilities; to Cheryl C., I leave a broken nose and a chipped tooth; to Denise and Jimmy, I leave my babysitting job at Sarah's; to Laura, Tricia, Francine, Jenny, and Angela, I wish you the best of luck. You're great friends and I'll miss you. Last, but not least, I thank Brian for putting up with me — I love you.

I, Bonzo, leave my brother Jim my ability to B.S. essays and a great senior year. To Lisa, I leave locker No. 709; to Kit and Allie, my soggy, wet shoulder, fond memories of Malachi (and lots of corn!). To all my senior friends: thanks for making it so great. To Heidi: I'll miss you. To Paul, I leave tickets to the ocean and lots of great memories.

I, K.D., leave Todd a blade of grass; don't trip. Have fun in the next two years. To Peter, I leave a crash helmet and "Prime". Beaker, remember the Showman and "John". Sharon, Lori, and Heidi, have a great senior year. Keith and Andy: thanks for making my senior year fun. To Shyla, I leave long talks and some great times. Mr. P., learn how to sew! And to everyone else, I leave.

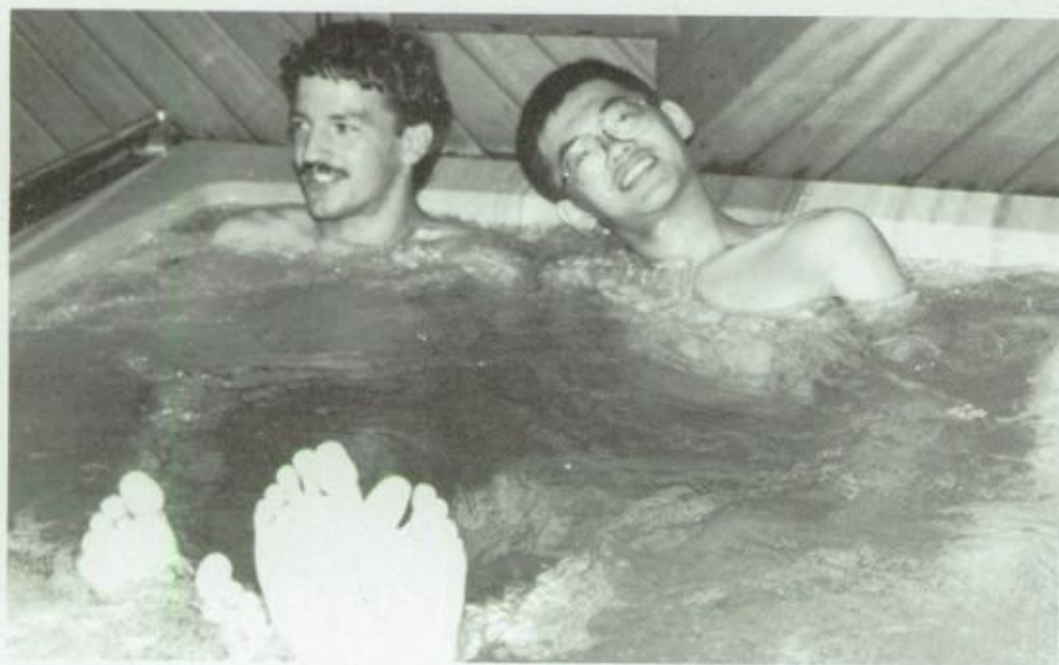

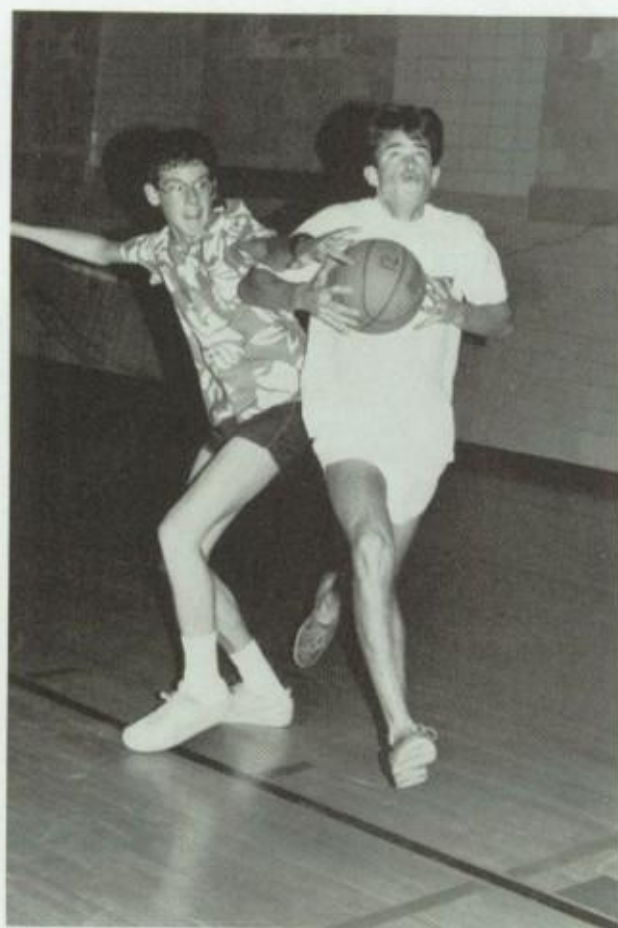

I, T.B., being of sound mind and body, do hereby relinquish all my clothing to my sister who needs them badly. All personal items with memories go to my best friend Trista Martin who helped make many of my memories terrific ones. All other things in my room are left to whomever wants them. Good luck and good riddance to B.H.S. and all its underclassmen.

I, C.L., leave to my baby brother Bill lots of luck in his two years left of high school. To Jill, my best friend, I leave lots of love and luck, especially with Steve Martin or whoever else. I also want to say thanks for always being there. Lastly, I want to wish the class of 1986 the best of luck in the future. We all made it, finally. Congrats! Go for your dreams.

I, Wendy, leave memories 2 S.L. and K.L. of our years together. 2 Murph, it was great "Bronkin" with u. 2 the Studs: RW, memories of THM; BA, no one will ever know about us; Oly, a tender kiss and a wish that one day we will be together again. Frankie, U R the BEST! 2 Mess, kick some butt; 2 EB, you're gorgeous; 2 RS, a smak! 2 Sarah, tenderheart and I will miss you. To BHS, I leave my smile.

I, S.L.W., bequeath to Sidney all of the determination, patience and respect I've gained at B.H.S. Theresa and "Towney", I leave all the good times and talks we shared. Jodi and Jac: don't forget all the mischief we found together. To all cheerleaders, I leave my ability to cheer and love it. Thanks, Mom for believing in me and loving me. My senior classmates: thanks for the best four years. Thanks, Odell! Love you all, but I gotta go. Bye.

I, R.W., being of stature, do hereby bequeath C.B. a long hard saxophone reed. To J.S., a certain person's hair. To S.S., Mr. Right. To the "party" guys, you know who you are, some S.C. to start your day. Finally, to anyone who wants it, B.H.S. Now its time to move on and quaff some of life's bountiful harvest. Thank you.

Faces '86 223

STIMPLY SENSATIONAL Yuppies

They say that a photograph never lies. Whether this is true or not, no one doubts the importance of a good picture. The theme of this 1986 Oread was "Faces '86" . . . faces of those we loved, faces of those we didn't, and faces of those we never even knew but want to remember as participants in a shared experience. As you look at them, you will think not only about the person but about the good times and the bad times. You'll remember the struggles you endured during your four years at

Burlington High School. You'll recall the strange things people did. But most of all, you will laugh and ponder all the good times. These, then, are the faces of B.H.S. and the faces of America. They are the minds of tomorrow. Who can ever know what these faces will accomplish in the thousand lifetimes here? Never mind. Isn't it fun to just look back at these faces and say, "I remember when . . ."

Faces '86

Colophon

This 1986 Oread, volume 86 of the Burlington, Vermont, High School yearbook, was printed and bound by the Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas and Malvern, Pennsylvania. The book was printed using offset lithography, and the press run was 620 copies. Each book cost $15 to the B.H.S. student although each book actually cost $22.50 to print.

The white vinyl cover was silkscreened with a dark blue design suggesting a facial profile. In the white area a grain entitled "Expressions" was impressed. On the spine of the book the year 1986 was embossed. The four color endsheet was enlarged from a photograph of the senior class taken in October, 1985.

The book was printed in 10 point Korinna. All headlines were printed in 24 point Korinna Bold and sub-headlines were printed in 18 point Korinna Italic. All captions and names of ninth, tenth, and eleventh grade students were printed in 8 point Korinna. Names of seniors were set in 12 point Korinna Bold print. In the Student Life section at the middle of the book several different headline styles were used, though all articles were printed in Korinna.

The first fifteen pages of the book used a 100% black background to contrast with both black and white and color pictures. Color pictures were reproduced using a four color laser process. The book was printed on 80 lb. glossy stock during the summer of 1986.

Cover artwork was done by co-editor Rebecca Porter. Color and black and white photographs were taken by the staff members, by the advisor, and by the local MacLean-Stevens photographer, David Eaton.
